WILSON CONSIDERS NEW PLAN FOR PEACE

FORMAL NOTE TO NATIONS

Diaz is Denied Visitors on Board the Louisiana—Mexican Newspapers Dislike United States Policy—Fighting.

Washington, Oct. 29.—President Wilson has under consideration a new plan for restoring peace in Mexico which he will discuss with his cabinet Friday and make public within a few days.

Officials were reticent as to what is contemplated. As the United States has asked not only the European governments but those of Latin-America and the Orient to withhold the formulation of their policy toward Mexico until the Washington government can make known its plans for dealing with the situation, the solution of which the President and Secretary Bryan are working, is believed to be more comprehensive than any suggestions heretofore made for the pasification of the Southern Republic. High officials of the government, while declining to say what steps would be taken by the United States, declared that the purposes and aims of the government had been explained in the President's speeches at Swarthmore, Pa., and Mobile, Ala. The American government's course of action will be embodied in a formal note which it is expected will set forth the principle that constitutional government alone must be established out of the chaos in Mexico and will suggest means for accomplishing that purpost.

No Direct News.

Though the State Department has not been informed officially of the reported purpose of Gen. Huerta to declare Gen. Blanquet as having been elected, it is certain that in line with previous declarations, the election of last Sunday will not be recognized as constitutional.

The inability of the Huerta government to conduct a constitutional election, it is thought, will lead the American government to suggest a method of holding the elections in which safeguards and guarantees can be given which will permit the constitutionalists to participate freely. Diplomats here generally believe that before suggestions concerning any election can be carried out the elimination of Huerta from the situation must be accomplished.

It is thought that in much the same way as President Wilson outlined recently to John Lind, the points on which a satisfactory settlement of the trouble in Mexico, seemed to be conditioned, he will repeat his suggestions, but will add the stipulation that some one acceptable to all factions be placed in provisional authority to conduct a fair and free election. Details of an election plan, it is thought, would accompany such suggestions.

Other Alternatives.

Various alternatives, such as more support for the constitutionalist cause, or lifting the embargo on arms, have been suggested as ways to influence Huerta's retirement. That some comprehensive plan for dealing with the situation is expected by Europe was apparent today when the character of the representations made by the diplomats at Mexico City to their home governments became known.

Although no collective opinion was reached at the recent conference of diplomats at the Mexican capital, many of them, it was learned today, criticised the United States severely for not taking such steps as would restore tranquility. Some suggested intervention in one form or another.

The French minister is said to have been among those who roundly criticised the American policy while the Spanish minister is declared to have made caustic reference to the invasion of the rights of Spanish nationals while the United States maintained a quiescent attitude.

Note to Nations.

Secretary Bryan said today that a formal note had been sent to all European governments asking them to suspend formulating of a policy toward Mexico until the United States had defined its attitude. England, France and Germany, he said, already had been heard from and it was expected that the other governments would follow.

It is expected that the United States will first make formal demand for the elimination of Huerta and the conduct of fair and free elections, possibly with some safeguards to systematize the election machinery. There was absolutely no comment forthcoming, however, from executive quarters as to just what was intended by the United States. Steps to secure a new election would involve negotiations with the Constitutionalists and there is a confidence among administration officials that if guarantees for a free campaign can be arranged through the establishment of a provisional authority at Mexico City acceptable to the Constitutionalists, the latter are likely to fall into line.

Secretary Bryan said that the State Department had not yet decided what disposition would be made of General Felix Diaz, a refugee aboard the battleship Louisiana.

The sailing today of four American battleships from Hampton Roads to relieve those at Vera Cruz, marks the first step on the part of the United States toward complying with the recent declaration of Huerta that foreign ships had been too long in Mexican waters.

IMPORTANT CHANGES MADE

Many Amendments to Administration Currency Bill Were Adopted by Committee Yesterday—Increase Board.

Washington, Oct. 29.—Important changes in the administration currency bill resulted from today's executive work on measure by the Senate Committee.

The committee passed over for later action the proposition to substitute a central, government-controlled bank for the regional bank plan in the bill on which the members were evenly divided and proceeded to perfect the details of the measure.

The complexion of the proposed reserve board was materially altered by amendments adopted today, and it probably will be further changed. It was decided to increase the membership of the board from seven, as fixed in the House bill, to nine and to eliminate the secretary of agriculture and the comptroller of the currency from service on the board. The committee decided to arrange the terms so that one member's service would expire each year.

This provision is designed to meet the demand that the service of members of the board be given continuity to enable them to profit by their experience on the board.

It was decided to elminate the organization committee proposed by the House bill, and to have the Federal reserve board appointed immediately with the power to organize and place in operation any system devised, whether a central bank plan or a regional bank scheme is finally agreed upon.

A large part of today's session was devoted to a discussion of the number of regional banks to be created if the regional plan is retained, but no conclusion was reached. Administration supporters endeavored to keep the number as near twelve as possible but other members of the committee favored four, five or six banks. A decision on the question probably will be reached tomorrow.

The committee has temporarily abandoned all efforts to dispose of the central bank plan, on which the committee stands six to six. The members will proceed to develop both the regional and the central bank plan so far as possible along parallel lines until each is perfected so far as the committee can agree. Then the vote will be taken on the two plans.

POLITICS NOT TO FIGURE.

Efficiency Alone Will Count in Appointments—State Nominations.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Washington, D. C., Oct. 29.—As intimated in a note made public the day he signed the urgent deficiency bill carrying the Overman resolution exempting deputy marshals and collectors from the civil service law, President Wilson tonight, through Commissioner Osborne, notified every collector of internal revenue in the United States that in selecting deputies the one and only requirement must be efficiency and that politics must not enter into the question. Commissioner Osborne's letter says that the law was changed for no other purpose than to get more efficient men and that the discharging of deputies for political reasons will not be countenanced for a moment. That President Wilson would take the action he did today was forecasted exclusively in these dispatches the day Mr. Wilson signed the bill. That he would interfere in the matter has been repeatedly denied. His action today, however, confirms everything that was stated in this correspondence a few days ago.

Senator Simmons has recommended former State Senator E. M. Green, of Newbern, for appointment as assistant district attorney for the East. Senators Simmons and Overman will call upon Attorney General McReynolds tomorrow and tell Mr. McReynolds they are about ready to make recommendations for district attorney and United States marshal for the Eastern and Western districts. They will not make these recommendations, however, before Saturday. The call tomorrow will be in the nature of a notification to the attorney general in order that he may request the resignations of the Republican incumbents, if he desires to do so, and it is believed he will do so at once.

Guilford, Rockingham and Randolph counties have been taken from the Eastern internal revenue district and added to that of the West. The change was made by an executive order of President Wilson. It has no political significance. The change was made in order to more equally divide the State. P. R. A.

Invitations to White House Wedding Are Being Mailed.

Washington, Oct. 29.—Invitations for the White House wedding November 25th were being addressed today. The invitations are engraved simply and read:

"The President and Mrs. Wilson request the pleasure of the presence of ..... at the wedding of their daughter, Miss Jessie Woodrow, to Mr. Francis Bowes Sayre, on November twenty-fifth, nineteen hundred and thirteen, at half after four o'clock at the White House."

The number of invitations has not been finally decided upon and detailed plans for the wedding are not ready for announcement.

Muret Draws That Time in Atlanta Prison for Counterfeiting.

New York, Oct. 29.—Ernest Muret, bogus dentist, was sentenced today to serve seven years and six months in the Atlanta prison for having in his possession a complete outfit to be used in counterfeiting $20 bills. Muret was convicted yesterday.

STRIKERS CLEAN OUT POSTOFFICE

In Making Raid, Stove Is Upset and Building With Contents Destroyed.

TWO BATTLES YESTERDAY

National Guards Have Arrived and Are Encamped on Scene of Recent Disturbances—Miners Will File a Protest Against Troops.

Trinidad, Colo., Oct. 29.—Violence among the striking miners in the Southern Colorado coal fields today shifted from Ludlow and its immediate vicinity to Aguilar, six miles north.

Possible Federal complications were precipitated at the office of the Southwestern Fuel Company, where, last night and early this morning, a battle waged between strikers and a handful of mine guards. After defeating the guards and capturing the mine offices, in which the post office also is situated, the strikers are charged with having knocked over a stove, setting fire to the building, which was destroyed, together with the mail, money orders and money.

After destroying the Southwestern offices, the miners went to the Empire mine, and riddled the boiler house with bullets. No one was injured in either camp.

The Colorado militiamen today established their camp on the outskirts of Ludlow. No trouble occurred between the mine guards and strikers there today. Mine guards and strikers at noon were given 24 hours to surrender their arms and ammunition to the State forces, and, unless they comply, it is indicated the troops will remain in quarters indefinitely.

MAY CALL FOR INFORMATION.

Congress Likely to Ask Treasury Department About Collections.

Washington, Oct. 29.—The delay of the administration in announcing its decision interpreting the 5 per cent tariff discount on imports in American vessels may result within a few days in the introduction of a measure in the House calling on the Treasury Department for information as to what it is doing to enforce the new tariff law on this point. It was said in the House today that some such action would be taken soon unless the department acted.

It is understood the attorney general already has prepared his decision but that his conclusions are being withheld with a view to sooner or later having the problem in the courts, the attorney general taking the position that it really is a judicial question.

At the Capitol it is generally understood that the attorney general's decision holds that the 5 per cent discount abrogates treaties now in force and that therefore no vessels, either American or foreign, can be given the 5 per cent differential. The Treasury Department, however, is proceeding with the collection of full duties, expecting the whole question to be fought out in the courts.

NO ALARM AS TO TARIFF.

"The American Manufacturer is Able to Hold His Own."

Atlantic City, N. J., Oct. 29. — That the American manufacturer will be able to successfully compete against foreign-made goods under the new Tariff law at least as far as hardware products are concerned, was the opinion expressed here at both the conventions of the American Hardware Association and the American Hardware Jobbers' Association. W. E. Taylor, of Cleveland, president of the jobbers' association, declared that there was no alarm among members of his organization as to the effect of the new law.

"The American manufacturer is able to hold his own," said Pierpont B. Noyes, of Oneida, N. Y., president of the American Hardware Manufacturers' Association. He not only will be able successfully to compete with the foreign manufacturer in this country, but will continue to find a good market for American goods abroad."

Plan to Increase Methodist Church

Indianapolis, Oct. 29.—Methods for enlargement of the Methodist church were discussed today at 19 sectional meetings of the National convention of Methodist men.

Each section represented the territory of a bishop. Effects in these territories of the new financial plan of the church received particular attention.

Prior to the sectional meetings the convention heard representatives of three other churches tell what their church organizations had been doing in missionary fields. These speakers were C. A. Rowland, of Athens, Ga., speaking for the Southern Presbyterian; A. E. Cory, of Cincinnati, for the Disciples of Christ, and J. Campbell White, for the United Presbyterians.

Mr. White, who also spoke tonight, said that if 15,000,000 of the 23,000,000 of Protestant church members in America would give as much per member—$3.50—as the United Presbyterians did last year there would be funds enough to evangelize the world in the present generation.

"The problem of our civilization is the problem of the city," declared A. W. Leonard, of Seattle, Wash., who spoke tonight. He said preachers in the pulpit should lead in civic righteousness.

OPEN ARGUMENT IN DYNAMITE APPEAL

Frank M. Ryan and Other Labor Union Officers Make Plea.

MAY GO TO SUPREME COURT

It Is Understood If Decision of Lower Court Is Unfavorable Appeal Will be Taken to Highest Courts of the Land.

Chicago, Oct. 29.—Objections to the conviction of 30 of the 33 "dynamite plotters" at Indianapolis last December were laid before the United States Circuit Court of Appeals today in an appeal of the men to have the verdicts set aside.

On behalf of Frank M. Ryan, president of the Iron Workers' Union; Olaf A. Tveitmore, San Francisco, and the other labor union officers adjudged guilty of complicity in dynamite plots, Chester H. Krum, their chief counsel, argued before the court as follows:

"That even if the defendants had been guilty of illegally transporting dynamite and nitro-glycerine on passenger trains in violation of Federal law, and even if they had blown up the work of contractors who refused to join the union, the statute of limitation had run against the offenses before the men were tried.

"That the Federal Court at Indianapolis committed an error in allowing Ortie E. McManigal and Edward Clark, confessed dynamiters, to testify against the other men, because Clark and McManigal were co-defendants and their testimony was incompetent.

Offense Against State.

"That the destruction of non-union work was an offense against the State and not against the Federal government.

"That the law prohibiting transportation of explosives on passenger trains was a precaution for the safety of passengers and was directed against the railroads.

"That the men were convicted both of conspiracy and of direct violation on the same evidence and, therefore, were punished more than once for the same offense."

"It was as invalid to punish these men twice or thrice as it would be to try them more than once on the same charge," said Mr. Krum. "Further it is conceivable that men residing in Boston, San Francisco, New Orleans, Duluth, Philadelphia and other places equally scattered could have got together with a common understanding to direct the actions of McManigal and the McNamaras."

District Attorney C. W. Miller, of Indiana, tomorrow will begin the argument of the government.

Probably when the argument is concluded Judges Kohlsaat, Baker and Seaman will take the petition under advisement and render their decision at some late date. It is understood that should the present appeal be adverse to the convicted men it will be carried to the United States Supreme Court.

FAVOR GOVERNMENT'S CHANGE.

In Grades of Corn—National Grain Dealers' Association Notify Secretary.

Washington, Oct. 29.—Representatives of the National Grain Dealers' Association today formally notified Secretary Houston that the organization favored the government's proposed standardization of foreign grades.

Adoption of the new grades by the association was over the protest of Representatives of the Baltimore Chamber of Commerce who declared that promulgation of the new grades would seriously affect their export trade, the largest in the country.

Many of the speakers at the hearing today, while favoring the proposed grades, urged modifications.

In view of the action of the Grain Dealers' Association, Agricultural Department officials expect no other legislation aside from the pure food law, will be needed in enforcing the new grades, which will be promulgated soon.

OUTLINES

The will of Adolphus Busch, the millionaire brewer of St. Louis, was yesterday filed for probate. His estate is valued at something like fifty million.

Renewed heavy fighting is reported around Monterey, Mexico. The leaders of the Constitutionalists are urging all on their side to rush there and to make one decisive stand.

Strikers in Colorado destroyed a United States post office yesterday. This fact will bring Uncle Sam into the trouble between strikers and State, as it now stands.

Numerous objections have been filed in the United States Circuit Court of Appeals in Chicago, by counsel for the dynamiters who were convicted of blowing up the Los Angeles Times building.

The seventh annual convention of the Southern Commercial Congress was brought to a close yesterday with the election of officers. Quite a number of the members left for a trip to the Panama canal.

Important changes were made in the Administration currency bill by the committee yesterday. One of these was the increasing of the board to control the banks from seven to nine.

CONVENTIONERS TO PANAMA CANAL

Forty Members of Southern Commercial Congress Take Trip to the Big Ditch.

ELECT A NEW DIRECTORATE

Oklahoma City and Houston Only Cities Bidding for Next Year's Convention—Meeting Place Undecided.

Mobile, Ala., Oct. 29.—The seventh convention of the Southern Commercial Congress was brought to a close tonight after electing a directorate composed of many new members and passing resolutions upon several important subjects discussed at the convention.

Soon after elected, those directors present met and heard arguments of Oklahoma City and Houston in favor of their cities for the next convention and elected officers. The directors will select the next meeting place at some future date. Only the two cities mentioned put in a formal invitation for the 1914 session.

These officers were elected: President, Senator Duncan U. Fletcher; first vice president, T. S. Southgate; second vice president, Albert P. Bush; managing director, Dr. Clarence J. Owens; treasurer and resident director, W. H. Saunders.

About 40 of the delegates will leave tomorrow for a trip to the Panama Canal.

Want More Trade.

Chief among the resolutions adopted today was one instructing the director of the congress to at once begin a systemized propaganda aiming at diverting trade made possible by opening the Panama Canal to Southern ports. Officials of the congress are ordered to do this as quickly as possible. Another important resolution urges upon the United States Congress to put in effect as soon as practicable a system of rural cerdits. This resolution was adopted unanimously after it had been pointed out in several speeches how the Southern farmer is handicapped by lack of a sound system of credit and how much is lost to the South each year because of the absence of system in growing and handling crops.

The Federal government is called on in another resolution to furnish early in each year the cotton spindle capacity of the country sa that the producer may have an equal advantage with the consumer in this respect. The congress also urged that cotton be graded at the gin under Federal supervision in order to save the great total loss caused by taking samples from bales and that bonded warehouse receipts be given certifying the corect weight and grade of the product.

Other resolutions favored municipal wharves, upbuilding of the merchant marine, backed the American Bar Association in its effort to arrange same plan to shorten litigation, and favored correct vital statistics.

The nominating committee, which reported on a set of directors, worked on the list for two days and the report today, which was adopted, showed many changes. A majority of the members are new men. Those elected were:

Mrs. Eaton's Case to Jury Late Today

Plymouth, Mass., Oct. 29.—The case of Jennie May Eaton, charged with the murder of her husband, Rear Admiral Joseph G. Eaton, was given to the jury shortly after 6 o'clock tonight.

Various exhibits, including bottles of arsenic and letters written by Mrs. Eaton, were taken to the jury room to be considered by the jury in accordance with the instructions of Chief Justice Aiken.

The closing argument for Mrs. Eaton was made by William A. Morse. He declared "there is no evidence upon which to find that this woman committed the act charged, or that she is so insane that she could commit crime and not be responsible for it."

The lawyer said that no witness had seen Admiral and Mrs. Eaton other than happy and affectionate. He declared he could not guess the cause of Admiral Eaton's death and he cautioned the jurors that they had no right to guess when the life of Mrs. Eaton hung on the result.

District Attorney Albert F. Barker, after outlining the evidence against the accused, asked that if the jury believed the defendant was irresponsible, she be found "not guilty by reason of insanity."

"She is more dangerous than a rattlesnake and there is no telling whom

NEW YORK POLITICS AT FEVER HEAT

ADOPT COMMITTEE REPORT

National Association of Railway Commissioners Recommend Federal and State Supervision of Issuing of Stocks.

Washington, Oct. 29.—After a long and at times acrimonious debate, the National Association of Railway Commissioners tonight adopted a report of the committee on railway capitalization recommending rigid Federal and State supervision of the issuance of stocks and bonds of utility and railroad corporations.

The report recommended: That there be limitation by law of the purpose for which the issue of stocks and bonds shall be permitted.

That authority be given commissions to see to it that the proceeds of sales of stock and bonds are devoted to the purposes for which they are issued.

That no stocks or bonds be issued without the positive approval of the commission after full investigation.

That power be given the commission to impose such conditions upon the issue as may be necessary.

That the regulation of the stocks and bonds of inter-State common carriers be delegated to the Inter-State Commerce Commission.

The proposition of Commissioner Martin S. Decker, of New York, that a committee of one from each State Commission be appointed to strive for uniformity so far as possible in the statement of intra-State express rates was adopted. The members of the committee will be named by their various State commissions.

The day's session was enlivened by a discussion of State's rights as relating to the powers of the individual States to regulate rates. Commissioner L. B. Finn, of Kentucky, precipitated the debate by introducing a resolution declaring that power not delegated by the Federal constitution to Congress but reserved to the several States "authorizes each State to fully and completely regulate commerce wholly within its boundaries, and that said authority should be exercised without hindrance from the Federal government.

Commissioner John H. Marble vigorously objected. He was strongly seconded by Counsel Barrow, of the Louisiana commission, who declared that, on account of the action of the Texas railroad commission, which developed the Shreveport case now being heard by the Supreme Court, "ruin is staring the people of Louisiana in the face and the transportation in our State has become intolerable."

Mr. Barrow insisted that, if the power of the Inter-State Commerce Commission to remove discrimination of this kind were not sustained, the Texas State commission "soon will be making rates for the whole southwestern territory."

The resolution finally was laid on the table by a vote of 20 to 19.

It was decided to hold the next convention at Washington, November 17th, 1914. The following officers were elected:

President, L. B. Finn, Kentucky; first vice president, Clifford Thorne, Iowa; second vice president, Judge Robert R. Prentis, Virginia; secretary, William H. Connolly, Washington, D. C.

LARGE DEMAND FOR TICKETS.

Popularity of Football Shown by Receipt of Applications.

New York, Oct. 29.—Any lingering doubt of the popularity of inter-collegiate football even under the revised playing rules, is removed by the unprecedented deluge of applications pouring in upon those in charge of ticket distribution for the big games of the season. From present indications, the seating capacity of the various fields upon which the Yale-Harvard, Army-Navy, Harvard-Princeton, Pennsylvania-Cornell and Princeton-Yale games will be played, will be unequal to the demand.

One of the surprises of the season is the increased interest in the Army-Navy game to be played in this city November 29th. It was thought that with the transfer of the contest from Franklin Field, Philadelphia, to the Polo Grounds, the 41,000 seats would accommodate all those who wished to witness the play. Such, however, is not likely to be the case, as it is possible there will be no public sale of seats as was originally planned.

For several years there has been no public sale of tickets for the Yale-Harvard and Princeton-Yale games. The ticket situation has reached the point where tremendous demand offers a promising field for speculators. To cope with this evil the various college organizations and publications are issuing warnings on the subject of selling or giving away tickets allotted to those entitled to them similar to tariff, published at Yale University:

"The 'Black List' is no empty phantom. It is a real book, bound in black, compiled with the aid of a large corps of detectives and kept in the ticket office to receive and retain the names of those whose infringement of the rules make them ineligible for further applications for tickets."

In round figures 35,000 seats will be available for the Yale-Princeton game at New Haven November 15th and the Harvard-Yale game at Cambridge, November 22nd. Twenty-seven thousand seats will be the capacity of the stands at University field, Princeton, where Princeton and Harvard meet on November 8th.

Washington, Oct. 29.—The Smithsonian Institution today announced that the Hodgins prize of $1,500 for the best treatise on "The Relation of Atmospheric Air to Tuberculosis" had been equally divided between Doctors G. Hinsdale, of Hot Springs, and S. Adolphus Kropf, of New York city.

Charges and Counter Charges Made in Three Cornered Municipal Fight.

INVADE TAMMANY'S STREET

Speakers Followed by Crowds Take Stand Before Tammany Hall and Are as Rapidly Removed. Stillwell's Confession.

New York, Oct. 29.—New York's heated municipal campaign was kept in the feverish stage tonight. John A. Hennessy, former Governor Sulzer's graft investigator, whose speeches for the fusion ticket headed by John Purroy Mitchell, have been a striking feature of the campaign, kept up his attacks on Tammany Hall and Edward E. McCall, the Tammany nominee for mayor, laying stress in his talks tonight on charges of barge canal graft by which he declared Tammany benefitted.

Former Judge McCall, who spoke in Manhattan and Brooklyn, attacked Mitchell for his former connection as counsel for a corporation.

The $25,000 campaign contribution from the late Anthony N. Brady, traction magnate, first offered and declined by William Sulzer when he was running for Governor last year, and then given to Charles F. Murphy, leader of Tammany Hall, who declared yesterday that he returned it to Brady, remained a point of discussion. Support was given Murphy's declaration that he returned the money to Brady by a statement from former Judge Samuel A. Beardsley, who originally took the $25,000 from Brady to Sulzer and on the latter's refusal to accept it handed it to Murphy.

Beardsley's Statement.

Beardsley in his statement today without mentioning Murphy's name, said that "a campaign contribution of $25,000 made by Mr. Brady in the campaign of 1912 was subsequently returned to him."

Hennessy in one of his speeches tonight challenged Beardsley to furnish proof that Murphy gave back the $25,000.

Testimony to support the authenticity of a letter written last Summer from Sing Sing by ex-Senator Stephen J. Stillwell, a convict asking the then Governor Sulzer for a pardon in return for an exposure of "boss rule" in New York City, was given during the day by Col. William H. Amory, who carried the pardon application to Albany. Stillwell had declared the published version was garbled. Col. Amory declared the letter as made public was exactly as it was originally written.

Stillwell's reputed confession, said to be contained in a "little black book" in possession of Hennessy, will be turned over to District Attorney Whitman tomorrow, according to a statement tonight by Hennessy, who was a witness again today in the prosecutor's investigation of charges made during the campaign. Mr. Whitman's inquiry will result in grand jury proceedings if the district attorney uncovers evidence which he believes will warrant them.

Republicans, Progressives, Independent Democrats and Independent Leaguers were called upon to night by Marcus M. Marks, fusion candidate for president of Manhattan Borough, to organize a permanent anti-Tammany society.

The Democratic representatives in Congress from New York City, gave a dinner tonight to their party candidates on the municipal ticket. Chas. F. Murphy sat near Representative John J. Fitzgerald, who was toastmaster. The diners cheered McCall.

Supporting ex-Senator Stillwell in his repudiation of the alleged application for pardon, James M. Clancey, warden of Sing Sing, today sent in his resignation to the State Department.

Defy Tammany.

Fourteenth street, in which is situated Tammany Hall, witnessed an exciting scene late today when speakers of a rival political organization came there to expound their faith.

Speakers for the society to lower rents and reduce taxes on homes, accompanied by two women distributing their literature, sought to win votes opposite the hall. Crowds of Tammany sympathizers watched the invaders take their stand opposite the office occupied by Charles F. Murphy, leader of Tammany, and heard one of the speakers point to the hall and shout: "The man who is responsible for high rents and taxes is over there."

"Votes for Mitchell" banners and signs soon were trampled under foot and the women were escorted without ceremony to their wagons where the speaker got no further than ihs first declaration. Other speakers had no better success and the meeting was adjourned to another neighborhood.

Attack Mrs. Sulzer.

William Sulzer asked the authorities today to investigate the authorship of a pamphlet attacking his wife.

This pamphlet, written in Hebrew, was circulated anonymously in the Sixth Assembly District, where the ex-Governor is running for Assemblyman on the Progressive ticket. Jews predominate in this district. Sulzer had it read last night when he addressed a big political meeting.

The pamphlet said that Mrs. Sulzer, although a Jewess, repudiated her faith after her husband became Governor, and on more than one occasion in Philadelphia Mr. Sulzer had introduced her as a "Presbyterian."

Rabbi Joseph Levinson, of Albany, who read the circular at the meeting, called it "an infamous lie." He said that Mrs. Sulzer frequently had attended services at his synagogue.

BUYING BRUNSWICK CATTLE

Buyers From West—Excessive Rains. Social, Personal and Other Items of Interest at the Brunswick Capital.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Southport, N. C., Oct. 29.—Some weeks ago your correspondent noted the shipment from here of several carloads of live cattle, and it will be remembered that there was a good deal of controversy concerning this shipment after it reached Virginia, as to its being "ticky". Whatever the real condition of Brunswick county cattle, "ticky" or not, there is a constant buying of cattle, and it is reported that the western portion of the county is practically stripped, buyers taking all cattle and shipping them on the hoof to points west. Whether this is a part of the same scheme, recently pursued in States south of this, buying and shipping to western States as far as Kansas, is not made known. It must be that the farmer does not care much for his stock, for the price given is said to be four cents a pound. There is a great deal of speculation in cattle at present in the West, and at four cents, there ought to be good profit for those buying cattle.

October has followed September and August as a wet month, exceeding both months in the amount of precipitation, the rainfall for the month to date being 9.14 inches. The excessive rains have had a bad effect upon all crops, the result is quite likely to be that there will not be normal crops gathered, while the early prospect was for larger crops than the average.

On Monday in two ordinary dorys, two men in each boat, caught 1,400 pounds of blackfish, which they brought in and quickly sold. The dealers at once packed the fish and shipped them to Columbia, S. C., where it is reported there is a big market, the demand being from interior towns in that State.

The Oxford Orphan Asylum class made its usual annual visit here on Saturday night, but did not give a performance until Monday night, coming in advance in order to enjoy a rest. The members were given a good time, a boat trip to Fort Caswell, and all the fishing off the docks they wanted, were among the events. The class was entertained at the Morse House while here.

M. D. Herndon has sold his stock of drugs and fixtures to P. O. Leggett, who will open up and continue the business at the same stand. Mr. Leggett was formerly with the Watson Pharmacy Company, of this place.

The non-appearance of the steamer Wilmington here on last Sunday was cause of disappointment to many. There are many who consider that the Wilmington should run on Sunday as regularly as on any other day, and it is very convenient for relatives of Southporters in Wilmington to come down for a few hours visit on Sunday, a thing that they cannot do on week days. Another thing that struck a good many was the failure of the Sunday Star to arrive until Monday noon. It is usually brought down on the steamer on Sundays.

On Tuesday, from 3 to 5 P. M., Mrs. James W. Thompson at her beautiful home, Ardsworth, charmingly entertained at Tea in honor of her mother, Mrs. Butler, of Edgefield, S. C. Mrs. Thompson was assisted by Mrs. Harry Phelps, Mrs. Springer, of the Fort, and Miss Haight.

Stone & Company, of Wilmington, has the contract to deliver the four masted schooner, John Twohy, at Wilmington in time for its advertised Underwriters sale on next Tuesday, November 4th. This involves pumping out the schooner which now lies ashore on Battery Island flats, where the vessel has been for about two weeks. The tug Gladiator, with pumps started the work yesterday. There are a number of parties interested in the outcome of the sale.

Last Friday there was a party here of railroad people, among whom there were said to be representatives of the Clinchfield, Chesapeake & Ohio, Pennsylvania and Seaboard Air Line. They refused to talk or be interviewed.

WILSON BANKS.

Prosperous and Make Fine Statements —Other News Notes.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Wilson, N. C., Oct. 29.—Wilson banking institutions stand at the top, according to their statements, and the rivalry between the institutions here and those of other Eastern Carolina towns is very keen. Every statement is watched for signs of growth. According to the statements given out yesterday the Branch Banking & Trust Company has total deposits of $1,024,442.10. The First National Bank reports total deposits of $577,114.73. The deposits of the Wilson Savings & Trust Company amount to $360,089.64. These three banks have almost two million dollars on deposit and the statement of the Citizens' Bank is yet to come.

The new steam pump has been installed at the municipal pumping station and is working satisfactorily. The pump has a capacity of 1,500,000 gallons of water each day. The town is using about 1,000,000 gallons each 24 hours.

George Barnes, son of Robert Barnes, living near Black Creek, accidentally shot himself while out hunting Tuesday with fatal result. The boy, who is 14 years old, was jumping a ditch when the gun was discharged and the load entered the right side. Death resulted within a short time. The funeral service was held today.

Next Monday is the time set by the recent law enacted by the Legislature for the County Commissioners to hear the opinions of the citizens of the county in the matter of a county court for Wilson county. If there is no serious objection at that time the Commissioners will appoint a judge and a solicitor for the court.

COACH A. & M. TEAM.

Dr. Fred Anderson to Train Carolina Tech Team Again.

West Raleigh, N. C., Oct. 29.—It has been announced that Dr. Fred Anderson will again coach the A. & M. baseball team next Spring. Dr. Anderson was one of the best pitchers in the old Eastern Carolina League, several years ago, having pitched on the Wilson team. He was drafted by the Boston American team and has been with them during the past Summer. He took charge of the A. & M. team for the first time last Spring and succeeded in turning out a winning aggregation, and the Red & White is very fortunate in securing him to take charge of the baseball team again next Spring. He will arrive soon after Christmas to start up early Spring practice, and will probably have an assistant, who has not yet been announced.

CLARK DENOUNCES LOBBY

Chief Justice in Introducing Senator LaFollette Calls for Higher Statesmanship—Several New Charters.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., Oct. 29.—Chief Justice Walter Clark, in introducing United States Senator LaFollette for his address in this city on "Representative Government," declared that, while he has a high personal regard for Governor Craig he could but declare that had the Governor seen fit to follow the example of Governor Vance and President Wilson in instances that he cited, and demanded an investigation into the "insidious lobby" during the recent extraordinary session of the Legislature, the railroad rate legislation would have passed to much better advantage.

"If the men who marshaled the lobby who come with every Legislature and attend as regularly as the members and are 'dipping their hands in the same dish' had been examined under oath," declared the chief justice, "your rate bill would have passed. They would have been compelled to give the names of every lobbyist, what they were paid, what members they approached and what arguments and considerations they used. No milder means will suffice to redeem us from corporation control of our government. They cannot be divorced from the plundering of our people by soft words. They need to be choked and kicked."

In his address the chief justice had quoted at length from Governor Vance and paid tribute to the positions taken by President Wilson and W. J. Bryan and said that if President Wilson had not called for and secured the investigation as to the lobby invading Congress the tariff bill would not have passed.

Judge Clark said that it has been charged that the States from Virgina to Florida are more absolutely under railroad domination than any other States in the Union and that of these Virginia and North Carolina are most utterly and entirely in their power. "If this be troe, there is this difference that Virginia receives many millons of dollars yearly in lower rates as compensation for her humiliation, while the people of North Carolina pay more than $10,000,000 annually for the honor of being dominated in the matter of freight rates alone. We have paid hundreds of millions of your earnings for your submission to the tobacco trust."

"The people are in motion," declared Judge Clark. "Those who are leaders, or should lead, are hesitating."

The chief justice declared that "if the people only knew they would conquer; if they were only informed they would take charge of their government. It will take patience, it will take time; it will take leadership as in Wisconsin to enlighten them. But once enlightened their power is irresistible. In presenting Senator LaFollette he declared that "how the people can be aroused no one is so well able to inform you as the distinguished speaker of the evening—Senator LaFollette."

Earlier in the address the chief justice declared that the man who shall be able to accomplish for North Carolina what LaFollette has done for Wisconsin in securing two cent passenger fare, crush a powerful lobby and eliminate freight rates discrimination will be worth $10,000,000 a year to the people of this State.

Charters were issued today for three new corporations. The Black Mountain Manufacturing Co., of Black Mountain, Buncombe county, capital $25,000 authorized and $6,000 subscribed, for ice, wood, coal and other commodities. The Chowan Cotton Oil & Fertilizer Co., of Edenton, capital $75,000 authorized and $56,200 subscribed by J. G. Mood and others. The Jones-Sherrod Co., of Nashville, capital $50,000 authorized and $20,000 subscribed for mercantile business by C. L. Sherrod and others.

The American Motor Car Co., of Charlotte, changes its name to the Lummas-McCoy Co., Julian Lummas president. The Jacocks & Stallings Co., of Tarboro, changes its name to the Jacocks & Royster Co., W. M. Royster being president of the corporation.

VANDY TO VIRGINIA.

Hardest Game of South to be Fought Saturday.

Nashville, Tenn., Oct. 29.—Vanderbilt's football team was given an enthusiastic send off tonight, when it boarded the train at 9:30 o'clock for Charlottesville, to meet the University of Virginia eleven Saturday afternoon in what promises to be the hardest fought game of the season in the South.

Four hundred students cheered the team as the train pulled out. Eighteen players were taken in addition to Tom Brown, who makes the trip on crutches as a guest of the Athletic Association. The players were: Morgan, Huffman, Askew, Murray, Chester, E. Brown, White, Cohen, Preston, Boensch, Sikes, Turner, McQueen, Warren, Putnam, Lowe, Curlin and Curry.

Coach McGugin is undecided on his line-up and it will probably not be known until Saturday.

The team stops over tomorrow at East Radford, Va., and Friday night will be spent at Lynchburg. Signal practice will be held at both of these cities. The team will reach Charlottesville Saturday morning.

EASY WAY TO GET RID OF PIMPLES

Resinol Really Does What Cosmetics Are Supposed To Do.

It is so easy to get rid of pimples and blackheads with Resinol, and it costs so little, too, that anyone whose face is disfigured by these pests is foolish to keep on with useless creams, washes or complicated "beauty treatments." Here's the way to do it:

Bathe your face for several minutes with Resinol Soap and hot water, then apply a little Resinol Ointment very gently. Let this stay on ten minutes, and wash off with Resinol Soap and more hot water, finishing with a dash of cold water to close the pores. Do this every morning and evening, and you will be surprised to see how quickly the healing, antiseptic Resinol balsams soothe and cleanse every pore, leaving the complexion clear and velvety.

Resinol stops itching instantly and speedily heals eczema, and other skin humors, dandruff, sores, burns and piles. Sold by every druggist, Resinol Ointment, 50 cts. and $1.00; Resinol Soap, 25 cts. For generous free trial, write Dept. 4-M, Resinol, Baltimore, Md.

SUPREME COURT OPINIONS.

Cumberland Man Gets New Trial—Beer Case—Insurance Judgment.

Raleigh, N. C., Oct. 29.—The Supreme Court delivered opinions this weekly delivery day in nine appeals. Theodore Lucas, under sentence in Cumberland, for second degree murder in the killing of Gilbert McDougal, gets a new trial because of error on the part of the trial judge in failing to charge fully as to the law of self-defense as it applies to the case.

In the case of Farabee vs. Norfolk Southern Railroad Company in which a Wake county jury gave $15,000 damages for permanent injuries in falling from a car platform from which the steps had been torn as the train sped from Raleigh to Wendell, en route to Norfolk. This was on June 2nd, 1912, at night. The Supreme Court holds that too much latitude was allowed the plaintiff in testifying as to the scope of his mental suffering because of his permanent injury, especially the evidence as to being unable to provide for the care and education of his four-year-old son in addition to the regular support of wife and child for which he was incapacitated.

In M. E. Robinson vs. Security Life and Annuity Company, Greensboro, from Wayne, the court holds in favor of the insurance company. Special Agent Van Noppen had induced Dr. Robinson to take a policy with annual premium of $154.11 figuring the quarterly payment as $38.53. Ten years later the company discovered that the amount of the quarterly payment should be $40.84, demanding this amount for future payments. Van Noppen had divided the annual premium by four to get the $38.33 quarterly premium and a certain per cent. should have been added. The court requires the payment of the increased premium.

In Kistler vs. Southern Railway from Morganton, the right of a consignee to receive from the common carrier liquors to the extent of a barrel of beer in spite of the special act for Burke county forbidding delivery of amounts in excess of half gallon is upheld. Kistler had ordered a barrel of bottled beer from New York and the Southern declined to deliver it because of the special act of 1907, Chapter 34, Section 3 forbidding deliveries in larger quantities than half gallon. Kistler won before Judge Cline below and the Southern appealed to have the issue finally settled. Now the Supreme Court holds that Kistler is entitled to receive his beer. The full list of opinions delivered are:

Robinson vs. Security Life & Annuity Company, Wayne, reserved; Cavenaugh vs. Jarman, Onslow, judgment modified to the effect that the demurrer be sustained; action dismissed and costs against the plaintiff; Wilson vs. Scarboro, Wake, new trial; Farabee vs. Norfolk Southern, Wake, partial new trial as to damages; State vs. Lucas, Cumberland, new trial; Gardner vs. Insurance Company, Edgecombe, new trial; Holt vs. Ziglar, Rockingham, in plaintiff's appeal, judgment reversed; appeal of Faries dismissed; Kistler vs. Southern Railway, Burke, appeal dismissed; Hege vs. Wilson, Forsyth, affirmed.

DOWN-HOMER SUPPRESSED.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Newbern, N. C., Oct. 29.—W. O. Saunders, editor of the Down-Homer, a monthly magazine issued at Elizabeth City, this afternoon pleaded guilty to a charge of sending obscene matter through the mails. Judge Connor, before whom the case was to be tried, suspended judgment upon the payment of the costs of the case and upon condition that the publication of the Down Homer be ceased.

This case has attracted wide interest. It was first tried at Elizabeth City and resulted in a mistrial. It was then removed to Newbern. There were two counts against the defendant, one in regard to an article concerning Cole Blease, the Governor of South Carolina, and the other a poem on the origin of sin, but the defendant pleaded guilty only on one count. Saunders was required to give bond in the sum of $200 for his appearance before Federal Court at Elizabeth City for the next two years, and show that he has not resumed publication of the Down Homer.

Make This and Try It for Coughs

This Home-Made Remedy has no Equal for Prompt Results.

Mix one pint of granulated sugar with ½ pint of warm water, and stir for 2 minutes. Put 2½ ounces of Pinex (fifty cents' worth) in a pint bottle; then add the Sugar Syrup. Take a teaspoonful every one, two or three hours.

This simple remedy takes hold of a cough more quickly than anything else you ever used. Usually conquers an ordinary cough inside of 24 hours. Splendid, too, for whooping cough, spasmodic croup and bronchitis. It stimulates the appetite and is slightly laxative, which helps end a cough.

This makes more and better cough syrup than you could buy ready made for $2.50. It keeps perfectly and tastes pleasant.

Pinex is a most valuable concentrated compound of Norway white pine extract, and is rich in guaiacol and other natural pine elements which are so healing to the membranes. Other preparations will not work in this plan.

Making cough syrup with Pinex and sugar syrup (or strained honey) has proven so popular throughout the United States and Canada that it is often imitated. But the old, successful mixture has never been equaled.

A guaranty of absolute satisfaction, or money promptly refunded, goes with this preparation. Your druggist has Pinex or will get it for you. If not, send to The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

The way people bought thirty-five dollar "oxypathers" during the State fair at Raleigh shows that all the people who have suckeritis are not dead yet.

"What is a Democrat," Read the deliverances of President Wilson and get an old principle defined and emphasized in words that even a fool can understand.

Ambition is not creditable in all men. In order to gratify their ambition some will libel an opponent, while others will glut their ambition by causing the funeral of the other man.

The use of the word "lie" and "liar" in the political campaigns in practically every State indicates that the politicians are givng publcity on the hustings to what they know on each other?

The novelist who has it that the heroine "entered the parlor wearing a furtive look" leaves us to infer whether she was wearing anything else or not—that is to amount to anything.

When Gen. Felix Diaz gets safely away from Mexico on board that United States warship, on which he took refuge at Vera Cruz, he will be in a position to turn State's evidence about the murder of President Madero. He and Huerta ought to know.

Sulzer "down and out" is abusing his former friend, Boss Murphy, of Tammany. Murphy must have been the same kind of politician when Sulzer was running for Governor, and his failure to attack the "Chief" then is additional proof that circumstances alter cases.

GREAT WATERWAYS CONVENTION.

Wilmington should be represented by some of its livest men at the annual meeting of the Atlantic Deeper Waterways Association to be held at Jacksonville, Fla., November 18th, 19th, 20th and 21st. All the North Carolina coast country is particularly concerned in the work of the association and should look forward with more than usual interest to the meeting at Jacksonville. Owing to the increased importance of North Carolina waterways and their prospective development on a broader scale than ever, the entire State should manifest interest in the comprehensive plans of the association. This is specially so by reason of the fact that the intra-coastal waterway now being constructed will have more mileage in North Carolina than in any other State.

We should look upon the Atlantic Deeper Waterways Association as next in importance to the government, for its practical work makes it practically an auxiliary to the government in promoting development of its waterways and increasing the country's facilities for water transportation, the most economical means of moving traffic. The association has for its special object the improvement of transportation facilities by means of a connected inland waterway from Boston to Key West, and it is now in a position to press the claims of that project upon Congress. The government engineers have reported favorably on the major portion of the project and one of the links in the inland chain is now under construction in North Carolina.

As to the convention at Jacksonville, the people of that progressive and rapidly developing city are making elaborate preparations for the entertainment of the delegates, and aside from the vital importance of the business sessions an enjoyable visit is promised those who journey from the North to the Southland. The membership of the Atlantic Deeper Waterways Association embraces the entire Atlantic coast from Maine to Florida.

The proceedings of the convention will be full of interest from the first to the last. Governor Park Trammell, of Florida, will officially welcome the delegates in behalf of Florida, while Governor Charles R. Miller, of Delaware, will respond for the delegates. Mayor Van C. Swearingen, of Jacksonville, will extend the city's welcome, and the business men and commercial organizations of the city will offer numerous courtesies.

Many distinguished men and waterways experts will attend the convention and valuable reports and pertinent papers will be read by those who are eminently qualified to discuss water transportation along all lines. A strong programme will be presented each day, and the result of the convention will have a powerful effect in bringing about the speedy development of the waterways of the Atlantic coast. Further adding to the importance and interest of the convention, the Mississippi to Atlantic Inland Waterways Association will meet at Palatka, Fla., November 18th and 19th, and upon its adjournment the delegates will proceed to Jacksonville and fraternize with the Atlantic Deeper Waterways Association.

The Mississippi to Atlantic Inland Waterways Association is agitating an inland canal along the Gulf roast to connect the Atlantic ocean with the Mississippi river by a system of waterways across the State of Florida. It is practically a continuation of the Atlantic project. When these inland canal projects are completed they will give the South a tremendous advantage on account of inland navigation that will be free from the dangers to which shipping is subjected on the high seas.

PAVEMENT DISPLAY OF MERCHANDISE.

Common sense finally will agree with medical science that the sidewalk is no place to show goods, if people are expected to buy them. If the article displayed is a food product the prudent purchaser would not think of buying it unless he does not object to street dust and germ colonies that sooner or later become a part and parcel of the display. If it is something to wear, the purchaser who wants something new and fresh won't take the article that is exposed to dust and decay in the atmosphere of the street, not to say the weather.

We shouldn't think a merchant would expect to sell much to people who have a holy horror of buying anything that is subject to contamination by dust, flies and constant handling, like the goods that one has to walk around on the sidewalk and will walk away from rather than take a risk in buying. iFnally, we shouldn't think a merchant would expect to gain much by thinking his sidewalk display is any ways tempting, and, furthermore, that he would go to a lot of trouble in moving out on the sidewalk in the morning and moving back in the evening when it is time to close the store, or moving in and out after every rain. In fact, we can't see how a merchant can consider the sidewalk as much of a silent salesman, when the silent salesman that does the work is one enclosed with glass or screens.

Wherefore, it would strike a looker-on in Vienna that it would be an easy matter for the City Council to take the back track on its amendment which abrogates the ordinance prohibiting the display of merchandise upon two feet of the pavement. The sanitary factor alone should cause a reconsideration of the recent action of the Council, but when the public health is concerned in a great many instances that should be the controlling reason for sober second thought. Then the right of pedestrians to use of the sidewalks is a matter that should receive due consideration, while in a general way the appearance of the streets and the out-of-date idea of pavement displays should be all the reasons that the city authorities should want for keeping the sidewalks open for the passing throng.

The Star is gratified to note the action of the Council at its meeting yesterday afternoon. It seems to have partially yielded to strong public sentiment and if it goes all the way the city and its people are to be congratulated. So will be the Councilmen, too.

WHAT HAMBURG DID.

Hamburg has so developed her port facilities and her commerce has so developed as a consequence, that great German shipping center expects to jump from fourth place to first place among the big ports of the world. Indeed, it is said that when the shipping business of 1913 is tabulated it will be found that Hamburg has done more commerce than any other port in Europe or America.

The German port has come rapidly to the front because millions of dollars spent on its dockage and water terminals has made it the best equipped port in any country. Huge derricks pick up cars and literally dump their contents into a ship's hold, while the most modern loading devices for various cargoes make loading so economical that Hamburg is drawing commerce from other ports.

In 1912, Hamburg was visited by 18,400 ships or more than 500 ships per day. The port handles 14,000,000 tons of freight and meanwhile all lines of business have been quickened.

We can judge of the possibilities of Wilmington's present 25-foot channel, when it is stated that the natural depth of the Elbe up to Hamburg was 15 feet not many years back, while the energetic Germans increased the depth to 37 feet and the present dredging operations will increase it to 40 feet at mean low water. This will easily admit the largest ships afloat, as the channel is being widened in proportion to the depth.

PARCEL POST SWAMPED.

As a public carrier, Uncle Sam seems to be getting more business than he anticipated. Cheaper rates on small parcels has been a boon to the people and they are taking advantage of it both as a matter of convenience and economy.

That is not all, however, for the live merchants in the large cities have taken advantage of it to extend their business. In a way, that brings them in competition with the merchants of smaller cities, but there isn't any reason why merchants in all cities, towns and villages should not make use of the cheaper carrying service in order to push their business. They will have to make a study of its utility and get busy like the rest of them.

With the opening of the Fall trade, the Postoffice Department finds that the parcel post is being swamped with business by merchants in the big cities. So says a Washington dispatch. That ought to be enough to wake up the merchants in all cities, if they do not expect to see a large part of the trade going to the big cities several hundred miles away.

We spend millions to send Christianity to the heathen, but when the heathen want to come to Christianity's chief domain we stir heaven and earth to keep them out. Probbaly that is what makes "the heathen rage" and get off on their ear. Most people's idea of saving the heathen is to furnish the money to start them off on the right road, but when it comes to mixing up with them in the human family circle nobody seems to want to stand for it till they have to do it. in the "Sweet Bye and Bye."

A Maryland politician opposes the election of a Senator who will hold up President Wilson's hands and asserts that what is needed is "a Senator from Maryland who will tie President Wilson's hands." Our idea of a grotesque affair would be illustrated in the attempt of a pygmy to even reach up as high as the President's hands if he were to hold them together and stoop down for the fun of it.

Baltimore capitalists are alive to the importance of league baseball in a town or city and the people there are being asked generally to subscribe to preferred stock in a company to finance the deal, occupying nearly a whole page in Tuesday's Baltimore Sun in presenting the advantages of league baseball.

All North Carolina fairs this year are remarkably successful. With the corn show and arts exhibit here next month, New Hanover will have laid a very substantial foundation for something more pretentious in the way of a county fair in the Fall of 1914.

CURRENT COMMENT.

North Carolina people are exceedingly good-natured folk, or thirty-odd years after Vance showed wherein they were being discriminated against by the railroads they would not still be suffering the same injustice.—Raleigh News and Observer.

No enthusiastic believer in the worth of good roads could desire a stronger argument than that presented by George Cullen, a Laurens county farmer, when he took thirty bales of cotton on one wagon at one time ten miles to market at Dublin. He is to be congratulated upon his enterprise and upon furnishing such an excellent object lesson of the value of smooth, hard county roads. For if the roads had not been in good condition he never would have been able to establish the record of thirty bales to one trip. He has made it very evident that good roads such as are being built in Georgia are not primarily automobile roads. They are not built for pleasure only, although automobiles—owned by cityman or farmer—have had a great deal to do with fostering the good roads spirit. But they are business roads, built to enable the farmer to get his crops to market at the least expense. The quality of Mr. Cullen's cotton is indicated by the price he obtained for it. He sold the thirty bales for $2,100 or 14 cents a pound. Fifteen thousand pounds of cotton is a big load, even for a specially built wagon, and it would be foolish to attempt to drag such a load from Mr. Cullen's farm to Dublin unless the roads were in good condition.—Savannah News.

PHILIP BARTON KEY INCIDENT.

To the Editor of The Star:

Reading the account of the death of my old friend, Bonitz, in today's Star, mention was made that perhaps he was the last living witness of the shooting of Philip Barton Key by Gen. D. E. Sickles. As this occurred 55 years ago that statement may be nearly correct. I was a witness to the murder. I was living in Alexandria, Va., at the time. On that morning I went over to Washington. Just after passing the White House the shooting occurred a short distance in front of me. I remember distinctly the appearance of the house that Key was taken into. I overheard one man say to another, I will show you the house that Sickles boarded at. Boy-like, I followed them. I think it was either on 15th or 17th street, a large brick house. The man said that window, pointing to an upper story; there is where Mrs. Sickles hangs out a white handkerchief as a sign when it is convenient for her to receive Mr. Key.

WINBORNE'S DISAPPEARANCE.

Wilson Young Man Explains His Absence in Peculiar Way.

Wilson, N. C., Oct. 29.—Strange is the story told by Mr. Luther Winborne, the Wilson man who disappeared from his home last Thursday and returned at midnight Monday. In the meantime, not the slightest clue could be found to his whereabouts. During the four days of his absence Mrs. Winborne, the wife, was prostrated and friends were very much disturbed because of her condition.

Mr. Winborne refused to make any statement upon his return but after consultation with his family he has given out a statement. He says that when he left the house Thursday noon he expected to make an automobile trip to Elm City and return. It seemed, however, that some peculiar feeling came over him and he went to the depot and bought a ticket to Raleigh and that the first time he realized that he had left home without telling his wife was after he reached the capital city. Immediately he determined to return home and went to the depot for that purpose.

Continuing the story, Mr. Winborne says that while he was waiting for the Norfolk Southern train in the Raleigh station, he was accosted by a man, and the stranger inquired if he was not in trouble. Winborne answered that he was and the stranger very kindly offered his help and said that he had an automobile at the station and invited Winborne to come and he would take him anywhere he wanted to go. Winborne accepted the invitation and the two men started off in the car. The stranger told Winborne that he was going to Clarksville, Va., and Winborne could go with him. They reached Clarksvillo Saturday morning and Winborne said that he realized the mistake he had made and asked his new acquaintance for advice. The man urged Winborne to go home at once and Monday morning Winborne came to Raleigh by train and on to Wilson that night. While in Raleigh he learned of the serious condition of his wife and attempted to reach her by telephone. The message did finally get to her. Winborne arrived at midnight Monday.

Mrs. Winborne states that Mr. Winborne has had several nervous attacks and that these attacks would bring on mental aberration. It is presumed that one of these attacks is responsible for the decision to leave home last Thursday.

HISTORIC TARBORO BUILDING

Being Torn Away—Prosperous Bank —In Superior Court.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Tarboro, N. C., Oct. 29.—A peculiar incident connected with the tearing down and removal of the two houses located on the site purchased by the government for Tarboro's new postoffice, is the fact that the large brick house was erected 35 years ago within 60 days, the same time as the government has allowed for its removal. The frame house on this site was erected in 1799, and its history has been epoch-making in State affairs. Here it was that some of the most noted men of the day gathered. Rev. John Ingle, of the Church of England, having been its first occupant. Here it was that Robert H. Pender had his home during the Civil War, and many a garment was made for the wearers of the Gray.

With the call for the bank statement, The Farmers' Banking & Trust Company of Tarboro, shows a remarkable growth since its founding three years ago. The youngest of Tarboro's banking institutions, it has by its policy of conversatism and protection made a most enviable record. With a capitalization of $25,000 this bank now has resources of almost $400,000, or to be exact $382,939.42, and surplus of $16,049. The officers of this institution are Geo. A. Holderness, president; C. A. Johnson, vice president, and Ed Pennington, cashier.

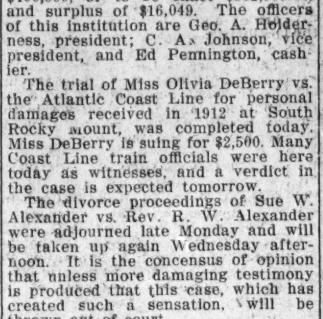
The trial of Miss Olivia DeBerry vs. the Atlantic Coast Line for personal damages received in 1912 at South Rocky Mount, was completed today. Miss DeBerry is suing for $2,500. Many Coast Line train officials were here today as witnesses, and a verdict in the case is expected tomorrow.

The divorce proceedings of Sue W. Alexander vs. Rev. R. W. Alexander were adjourned late Monday and will be taken up again Wednesday afternoon. It is the concensus of opinion that unless more damaging testimony is produced that this case, which has created such a sensation, will be thrown out of court.

Seattle, Wash., Oct. 29.—Lawrence Duke, son of Brodie Duke, wealthy tobacco manufacturer, pleaded not guilty today in the Superior Court, to the charge of manslaughter, preferred when Duke's automobile ran down and killed two men on the county road, near here, two weeks ago.

The Return of Blood Eruptions

No Reason Why Anyone Should Suffer Such Disheartening Experience.



No case of poisoned blood is ever cured until the last destructive germ has been eliminated from the system. And the only remedy that is assimilated in the tissues and stimulates cellular activity to overcome harmful germs is the famous blood purifier, S. S. S.

The skin is but a fine network of tiny blood vessels, and the specific action of S. S. S. is declared by eminent authorities to be a pronounced stimulation of the activity of these cells.

The reason for this is in the peculiar action of S. S. S. which enables the cells in the skin to select from the blood the nutriment it requires for regeneration.

Not only this, but if from the presence of some disturbing poison there is a local or general interference of nutrition to cause boils, carbuncles, abscesses and kidney troubles, S. S. S. so directs the local cells that the poison is rejected and eliminated from their presence.

This fact has been demonstrated year in and year out in a wonderful number of cases of severe skin eruption that had seemed to be incurable.

You can obtain S. S. S. at any well stocked drug store, if you insist upon it, but be sure you are not talked into something "just as good."

S. S. S. is prepared by the Swift Specific Co., 215 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga.

REGULAR SESSION COUNCIL

Different Methods of Water Purification Proposed—Number of Other Matters Before the Body.

Aside from the long discussion on the sidewalk ordinance, as told of in another column of today's paper, the City Council in regular weekly session yesterday morning had a number of matters for consideration. Mayor Moore presided with all members in attendance except Councilman Chadwick. Present also were City Attorney Bryan and Capt. Thos. D. Meares, city clerk and treasurer.

The question of purifying the public water supply either by some new process or by deep wells came in for quite lengthy consideration, but no action was taken. Representatives of the Pure Water Apparatus Company, of Philadelphia, were heard on a proposition to install a new apparatus for purifying water at a cost of about $400,000. The company is putting in a plant at Fort Caswell for the government. A letter was received from Mr. J. D. Lowry, the well man of this city, stating that he had an arrangement with a Chicago firm by which they would submit a bid to provide the city with deep wells from which to secure the water supply, guaranteeing 3,000,000 gallons a day of pure, wholesome water. The bid will probably be submitted by the next meeting. Mr. A. N. DuBois, a chemist of this city, made a proposition to sell the Council the right to use his patented process or method for purifying water. He said he could guarantee to furnish the city with 3,000,000 gallons of 98 per cent pure water every 24 hours. Additional apparatus for the operation of his process would cost about $18,000.

A letter was received from the health department with regard to a balance claimed on the September and October appropriations, but no action was taken.

Authority was given City Engineer Pillet to secure bids for building a wall around the pre-heater and also one around one side of the building at the incinerator.

At the request of Mr. John J. Blair, chairman of the Tree and Park Commission, an appropriation of $100 was made to cover expenses in getting up plans for the improvement of the postoffice lawn and the park in the southern part of the city. The commission will have some definite plans for the consideration of the Council in a short time, it was announced.

The Council received and accepted two contracts from the Atlantic Coast Line giving the city the right to lay sewer pipes under certain tracks of the company in the northern part of the city.

A resolution was adopted appropriating from the first back taxes collected sufficient money to build a 10-foot roadway from Eighth and Meares to the plant of the Clark-Lynch Lumber Co., on the belt line, a distance of about three and a half blocks. The improvement, which is badly needed, will cost about $1,200 and Mr. Clark, of the Company, agreed to lend the city this amount to be paid back when the back taxes are collected. The proposition was accepted. Council discussed the proposed improvement of Nixon street and the street or roadway through Hilton, but action was deferred until the next meeting.

City Engineer Pillet made report on the disposal basin in the southern part of the city and suggested as the most satisfactory remedy the laying of a water pipe line from the nearest hydrant. Supt. of Street McAllister was present and suggested the construction of a tank and have the fire boat go down once or twice a week and pump it out. The matter went over until the next meeting and in the meantime Councilman Merritt is to look into the question of the relative cost of the two propositions.

A request of Mr. W. M. Cumming for a hydrant at 13th or 14th and Castle streets was referred to Councilman Wood.

Upon motion of Councilman Wood it was decided to increase the wages of young Mr. Sweeney at the waterworks plant from $1.80 to $2 a day, gave two firemen at the plant a raise of 10 cents each a day, and increase the wages of Mr. Carr, of the same department, from $1.50 to $1.75 a day. The Atlantic Coast Line asked and was granted permission to erect a temporary track on Nutt street, near Hanover, where a retaining wall is being built.

Council adjourned at 12:50 after being in session for nearly three hours.

DEATH OF MR. V. GASKILL.

Well Known Citizen Passed Away at Residence Yesterday Morning.

Dr. Hale Critically Ill.

Many friends in Wilmington will regret to learn that relatives in this city have been advised that the condition of Rev. Dr. Fred D. Hale, who is ill at Hot Springs, Ark., is alarming and that there is very little hope of his recovery. Mr. J. W. Hale, his son, will leave today for Hot Springs. Dr. Hale also has a daughter living here, Mrs. C. B. Newcomb. Dr. Hale was pastor of the First Baptist church of this city for several years, leaving here on May 31st, 1909, to accept the pastorate of a church in Texas, going from there to Joplin, Mo., where he was stationed when he became ill several weeks ago. The funeral will be held this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock from the First Presbyterian church. The interment will be in Oakdale cemetery.

Four years ago he was made assistant to the president, and in 1912 one of the three vice presidents. Prior to going to Richmond he resided in Charleston, S. C., where he had charge of the sales department of the Virginia-Carolina Chemical Company. He began his business career in Wilmington starting in the laboratory department of the Navassa Guano Company of which he afterwards became general manager and then president.

He was held in highest esteem by the officials of the company with which he was connected for a greater part of his business career, and many of them will be here to attend the funeral. Among those who will arrive today are Messrs. S. D. Crenshaw, vice president, of Richmond; George H. Nash, division manager, Richmond; E. G. Muse, division manager, of Durham; Mr. E. N. JURY OUT OVER NIGHT.

Unable to Reach Verdict in Case Against A. C. L.—Hayes Divorce.

The Superior Court jury having in hearing the case of Ida Campbell, administratrix, against the Atlantic Coast Line, was unable to reach an agreement last night and along toward midnight retired probably to resume deliberations this morning. The jury had been out for several hours.

The plaintiff is suing for $15,000 alleged damages for the killing of her intestate, who lost his life under a box car on the dummy line on Water street some months ago. While it is no uncommon thing for him to make a fine speech to the jury, the address of B. G. Empie, Esq., of counsel for the plaintiff, was said by members of the bar who heard it to have been one of the best they have ever listened to in the Court House. Appearing with Mr. Empie for the plaintiff is Louis J. Poisson, Esq., while Davis & Davis represent the defendant.

Neal M. Hayes was granted a divorce from his wife, Rosa D. Hayes, on Biblical grounds. Evidence was adduced to show that she is living an immoral life in Columbia, S. C., and it was upon this that the decree was granted. It will be recalled that Mrs. Hayes a few years ago shot and killed Robert M. Floyd, a young man of South Carolina, at her home in Mount Tabor, N. C., being cleared of the charge of murder on the plea that she killed him in defense of her honor. Her husband and his brother, Lloyd Hayes, were also arrested on a charge of being connected with the affair. Lloyd Hayes was released by the court before the trial and Neal Hayes was tried with his wife and acquitted. Soon after the trial they came to Wilmington, where they lived a few months, then removing to Columbia, where it is alleged Mrs. Hayes deserted her husband with two small children to care for. The children, it was stated some time ago, have been placed in an orphanage in South Carolina.

Verdict in favor of the plaintiff for $157.80 was given in a case of T. D. Piner against B. F. Britain, Jr. By consent the case of the Hammer Lumber Company against B. J. Sanderlin was referred to E. S. Martin, Esq. Judgment was given the plaintiff for $58.30 and costs in a case of Bertner Furniture Co. against B. B. Black. The case of J. C. Vereen against the Hammer Lumber Company was continued and set for the first case at the December term. If the plaintiff is not ready for trial at that time it is ordered that the case be dismissed unless good legal ground for failure to be ready is shown to the court. The case of Anderson Nixon against Sam Blossom was continued.

BIG PYTHIAN EVENT TONIGHT

Mr. Geo. W. Penniman, Representing the Supreme Lodge, Will Lecture in Castle Hall—Public Invited.

The public is cordially invited to attend the lecture in Pythian Hall, Murchison National Bank building, tonight at 8 o'clock on "The Story of Pythian Knighthood" by Mr. Geo. W. Penniman, of Mattapan, Mass., representing the Supreme Lodge of Knights of Pythias. The lecture is given under the auspices of the local lodges and it is the desire of the Pythians that as many of their friends as possible hear the lecture.

"The Story of Pythian Knighthood" is a remarkably interesting illustrated lecture, presenting the dramatic and thrilling story of the two Pythagorians—Damon and Pythias—exemplified in Syracuse, Sicily, 23 centuries ago, and presents the facts concerning the history and growth with present conditions of the order of the Knights of Pythias, which though only 50 years old, has come to be the third largest fraternity of men in the Western Hemisphere and whose influence for good is potent in more than 8,000 communities of our land.

Mr. Penniman comes highly commended by the press and by those whose opinion is worth quoting, as a lecturer who has a very interesting story to deliver and who tells it in an attractive and entertaining manner and whose pictures, many of which were secured by him during a recent trip to Syracuse, Sicily, are works of art of high character, many of them brilliantly painted by some of the best lantern slide colorists in the country. The lecture is free to the public.

Mr. Penniman spoke Tuesday night in Durham, being heard by a large audience, and last night he lectured at Rocky Mount. He will come to Wilmington this morning.

THE RECORDER'S COURT.

Pompey Perry, Colored, Given Road Sentences on Two Charges.

For an alleged assault on K. D. Dixon, colored, and also on a charge of gambling to which he submitted, Pompey Perry, a negro, was yesterday given an aggregate sentence of four months on the county roads by the Recorder. Dixon testified that Perry and another negro, who has not been found by the police, came to his home several weeks ago. When he went out to meet them the other negro struck him with a garden paling, and Pompey was standing near with a pistol in his hand. When he started to run they gave chase, and threw brick bats at him, he said.

The Recorder gave him three months on the roads but suspended judgment upon good behavior and payment of costs. Being unable to pay the costs Perry was ordered to the roads. Judgment was suspended in another case against him for gambling. He was given 30 days on the roads in default of payment.

George Simmons, colored, entertained some of his friends at his home on North Seventh street, Tuesday night, and among the visitors were Andrew Gibson and Henry Willie, both colored. Perhaps they had been drinking but anyway, it was stated, they made much disturbance, and Simmons called the police. They were arraigned yesterday on a charge of nuisance, and were fined $10 each and the costs. A nol pros with leave was taken in a case against James McKoy, colored, for vagrancy.

Two cases against Mr. J. D. Sidbury, charging him with disorderly conduct and with assault with deadly weapon, were continued for the defendant until November 10th.

MR. BRENAMAN DIES.

Well Known Cigar Maker Meets Tragic Death in Baltimore.

Many North Carolina friends will read with regret the following from Tuesday's Baltimore Sun:

"Falling through an open hatchway in the rear of his factory about 10 o'clock yesterday morning, Charles H. Brenaman, 73 years old, senior member of the Charles H. Brenaman Company, cigar manufacturers, 427 West Lexington street, was so severely injured that he died four hours later at his home, 2020 Brookfield avenue.

"Mr. Brenaman started out to make his usual morning round and was not missed until some workmen storing tobacco in the cellar stumbled over his unconscious form. Blood was coming from a deep wound on his head and his face was badly battered. Dr. J. Homer Hoffman, 1627 Eutaw Place, was summoned and ordered Mr. Brenaman's immediate removal to his home.

"Mr. Brenaman revived sufficiently to be able to sit up in the Western district ambulance, but lapsed into unconsciousness again about 11 o'clock.

"A superficial examination showed that in addition to the wounds on his head and face he was suffering from internal injuries. He died a few minutes before 2 o'clock.

"Mr. Brenaman was one of the oldest cigar makers in the city, having entered the business half a century ago. Although he was well on in years, he was very active and directed the business of the company in person."

FUNERAL OF MR. BONITZ.

Services From St. Paul's Lutheran Church Yesterday Morning.

The funeral of Mr. J. H. W. Bonitz, Sr., one of Wilmington's most highly esteemed citizens, whose death occurred at his home, No. 322 South Fifth street, Monday evening, was held from St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran church, of which he was a member, yesterday morning at 11 o'clock, conducted by the pastor, Rev. F. B. Clausen, assisted by Rev. Dr. J. M. Wells, pastor of the First Presbyterian church.

The services were attended by a large concourse of friends who came to pay a last tribute to a man whom they had learned to admire for his many noble traits of character and uprightness and purity of life. His pastor spoke in the highest terms of his usefulness as a citizen and as a man. Special music was rendered by the choir of St. Paul's. Following the impressive services at the church the remains were borne tenderly to Oakdale cemetery where the interment was made. The grave was covered with many beautiful designs.

ABIDE DECISION OF MAJORITY

Councilmen Show Disposition to be Governed by What People Want—Sidewalk Ordinance Suspended.

Realizing the strong and widespread opposition that had developed to the measure and having a desire to do what in their opinion would be for the benefit of the majority of people rather than for the few, Councilmen Jones, Wood and Merritt, constituting a majority of the board, at the close of a spirited discussion on the subject and after a committee of ladies as well as men had been heard in protest against the new law, yesterday morning at the regular meeting of the City Council, decided to suspend until November 13th the operation of the amended city ordinance permitting the use by the merchants of two feet of sidewalk for display purposes, the ladies in the meantime to see the merchants who signed the petition for the privilege and secure a withdrawal of their signatures so that the Councilmen at a subsequent meeting will feel free to rescind, if they desire, their former action and declare that the sidewalks shall continue to be free of boxes, barrels, chicken coops, etc. Councilman Loughlin voted for the suspension. Councilman Chadwick was not present.

The housewives are satisfied with their morning's work and are encouraged to believe that the Council will never permit the amended ordinance to be put in operation. The three Councilmen who are responsible for the adoption of the amended ordinance, it is pointed out, should likewise feel pleased at this step for the way has been opened for them to get out of an unpleasant situation without sacrificing principle and without being put in the position of changing their individual views on the question. They passed the amendment to the ordinance at the behest of 92 merchants who desired this privilege. Although the ordinance lay on the table, so to speak, for a week there was no delegation before Council to protest when the vote was taken last week. Yesterday was the first time the Council had the opportunity of hearing an expression of the opposition in an official way. That they consider themselves the representatives of the whole people and are only too willing to hear both sides of a question on which they are about to act was demonstrated in the careful hearing given to the delegation and the prompt response to their appeal. Barring one unfortunate incident at the beginning of the meeting when Councilman Wood urged that the board keep the ladies waiting for a while during the consideration of another matter, the attitude of the Councilmen yesterday on the sidewalk question was considered to be altogether commendable and to one who is accustomed to see and put down things more or less as they are rather than as they appear on the surface, there is ample reason to justify the belief that the Councilmen will abide the decision of what manifestly is the sentiment of practically the entire community, namely, that the sidewalks be not cluttered up with boxes, barrels, chicken coops, etc.

Favorable consideration of the request of the committee was earnestly urged by Mayor Moore and Councilman Loughlin and the latter appealed to the three Councilmen named that as a personal favor to him to take up some other subject on which to fight out the point at issue between the three Councilmen and the Mayor Councilman Loughlin spoke twice along this line and his colleagues listened to him with close attention, for they entertain the highest respect and regard for the views of Mr. Loughlin on any question, though they are found on the opposite side most of the time.

When Councilman Wood at the opening of the session proposed that the Council hear from two representatives of the Pure Water Apparatus Company with regard to a proposition for purifying the city water, Mayor Moore promptly said no, that there were ladies present, that they usually come first and there would be no exception to this rule on the City Council. Councilman Wood insisted upon hearing from the water people first, saying that they had come all the way from Philadelphia. The water men said that they were in no hurry, certainly they would not ask to be heard before the ladies, and then as a preliminary to the remarks of the delegation Mayor Moore stated that the Council was honored by the presence of a large number of women of the city who desired to voice a protest against the amended sidewalk ordinance, stating that he knew the Council would hear their appeal and expressed the hope that the body would grant what they asked.

There were present some 15 or 20 representative women of the city, members of the Housewives' League, and a number of men. The ladies braved a driving rain in order to be present and present their cause.

Ladies Are Heard.

Mrs. J. G. Barentine was spokesman for the ladies and the cause was well presented by her. In addressing the Council she said:

"When I talked with Councilman Wood a week ago on this sidewalk ordinance, and told him that the ladies of the city would fight it to a finish I builded better than I knew, and I was much pleased when I was informed that the Mayor and his official family would be glad to see the ladies this morning in this Council room.

"While I do protest for the Civic Department of Sorosis, of which department I am chairman, we are not here as club women,but we do represent the wives, mothers and housekeepers of the city of Wilmington, and do come to protest most emphatically against the repeal of this ordinance. The original ordinance was drawn by a prominent attorney and passed by the Board of Aldermen after a said discussion through the efforts of the Home Science Department of North Carolina Sorosis.

"What has been the result? Cleaner streets and sidewalks, no decayed vegetable and fruits in the gutters or on sidewalks for the passing pedestrians to slip upon and for the ladies to soil their skirts upon, and best of all no foul odors arising from the decaying vegetables. Honorable Gentlemen, as men you do not realize what you are doing. Most emphatically we have a cleaner, prettier city and no inconvenience to anyone.

"One Front street dealer complained when the suggestion was made to him to split his window or have a door with window on each side, that all the dust from the street would flow into the store. I would like to ask you gentlemen, if the dust on fruits outside that store would be less contaminating than that which would lodge inside the door.

"The original ordinance is working no hardship on anyone. The merchants are used to it, and I ask you in the name of humanity, for the good of your fellowman and the homes and interests here represented to reconsider the ordinance that was repealed last Wednesday and put it back where it was originally. You did your duty to your friends. Now as husbands, fathers and men who should have other than self interest at stake remember that pure food is fully as essential as pure water. Once more let me ask you to put the ordinance for clean sidewalks back where it was, and to show yourselves to be men who consider the masses rather than the few."

Mrs. Barentine made it clear in her remarks that the ladies are not fighting any particular merchant and that they would not do anything to injure the business of any merchant; what they are seeking is pure, uncontaminated foodstuffs and a more beautiful city.

The ladies do not believe in boycotting, they detest the term, said Mrs. Barentine, but if the housewives cannot get what they want in Wilmington they will send elsewhere and get what is clean and pure. The league has a membership already of about 200 representative housewives.

Councilmen's Position.

Councilman Wood said that as he had introduced the ordinance he thought that he should have a word of explanation. He mentioned the fact that 92 merchants had asked the privilege and stated that he thought the merchants were entitled to some consideration, as they contribute largely to the running of the government, besides, he said, they are a great help to the community in that they carry innumerable accounts of persons on their books. Their rights, he said, should be considered.

Mrs. Barrentine asked Councilman Wood whether the merchants appeared before the Council in a body and made protest or did he take the petition around for signatures. Councilman Wood said that a petition was presented but he did not have anything to do with getting up the petition. It was brought out later in the meeting that the petition was not gotten up until after the introduction of the ordinance.

Councilman Jones said that he entertained the highest respect for the opinion of the ladies and was glad to have them present at the meeting. A number of merchants, he said, had approached him and asked that they be given the privilege to use two feet of the sidewalk. The petition was presented and the ordinance was amended. He had noticed stores with the modern fronts which had foodstuffs displayed in the doorway and he could not see how this could be less objectionable from a sanitary standpoint than foodstuffs displayed immediately in front of the door. Councilman Jones also stated that when he saw the petition he recognized at once that it was representative of the merchants of the city and as there was no protest against it before the Council he could not do other than vote for the ordinance.

It was at this juncture that Councilman Loughlin urged his colleagues to "give a point" and move for a re-consideration of the matter. He declared that the question was not of sufficient importance to be agitating the people as it is. He said that he happened to know that the ordinance was introduced before the petition of the marchants was filed. He was satisfied that most of the merchants on the petition would put their names on another petition against the privilege, because they had signed in the first instance without paying very much attention to the matter.

Councilman Merritt suggested that if the ladies would take the petition to the merchants who signed it and get a majority of them to withdraw their names, he would vote to repeal the amendment to the ordinance.

The Political Aspect.

In reply to the request of Councilman Loughlin, Councilman Jones said that he would be glad to move to reconsider the amendment, but for the political aspect of the question, which, of course, the ladies had no personal knowledge of. Councilman Jones said that it was not so much a question of the use of the sidewalks as it was a question of whether the Mayor or the Council had a right to pass legislation on the board.

Remarks in opposition to the amendment were made by Mr. E. H. Munson, of Munson & Co.; Messrs. L. W. Moore, D. H. Howes, Jr., R. H. Pickett, C. H. Huband, John J. Blair and A. N. DuBois. The latter spoke as a chemist and called attention to the danger of contamination of foodstuffs exposed on the sidewalks.

Councilman Jones said that any concession that he would make with regard to the ordinance would be on account of the request of the housewives of the city.

One of the ladies stated that the Housewives' League had planned to demand of the merchants who use the modern store doorways for the display of their goods that they keep the foodstuffs covered as a protection from contamination. If they do not they will be put down on the boycott list along with any merchant who may put their goods out on the sidewalk.

Stands by His Oath.

Immediately after the vote had been taken on the question of suspending operation of the ordinance for ten days after November 3rd, making it operative November 13th, Mayor Moore made reply to the statement of Councilman Jones with regard to the political side of the controversy. Mayor Moore said that he would concede to the Council the right to pass any laws it saw fit, but that if that body passes any laws that are contrary to his oath of office he will enforce the State law. If necessary he would call upon the Sheriff of New Hanover county to enforce the laws or even call upon the Wilmington Light Infantry and summon 500 good citizens of the city to aid him in the enforcement of law. Mayor Moore said that he was glad that the Council had listened to the voice of the women. The petition, he said, was signed by 92 merchants, but the women represent 30,000 people of the city. In conclusion he said that as long as he was in office he would be guided by his oath of office.

This closed the discussion on this question and the ladies left the Council chamber as the Councilmen took up the other business before it.

Hazleton, Pa., Oct. 29. — Hardly a wheel turned today in the anthrcite coal fields of Pennsylvania.

ATTACKS LAND LAWS.

Representative Scott Declares They Are No Good.

Tulsa, Okla., Oct. 29.—Representative Scott Ferris, of Oklahoma, chairman of the House Committee on Public Lands, in an address before the International Dry Farming Congress here today criticised the administration of affairs, in the Interior Department and assailed United States land laws now in force as a "Jargon of inconsistencies that retard progress and development."

"Our land laws are in many respects crude, irreconcilable, inefficient, without uniformity, confusing to the brain of the settler and impossible of interpretation by the layman," Mr. Ferris declared. "Most of our so-called land laws are simply a confusing mass of executive orders, rulings, interpretations and decisions made by bureau officials and clerks in the various ramifications of the Interior Department.

"During my service in Congress we have had four secretaries of the interior, Ballinger, Garfield, Fisher and Lone. The views of these four men have differed in policy on questions of law, on questions of constructions and many of the decisions made are actual obstructive to the settlement of the lands of the West and a blight of the development of the unbounded resources of a nation. On the question of the management of our lands, the last two National administrations have been wandering in a maze of conjecture which is blighting to both East and West."

Mr. Ferris urged that land withdrawn by the government for exploration for minerals but found to contain should be more quickly restored to settlement.

H. B. Waters, president of the Agricultural College of Kansas, was elected president of the Congress tonight to succeed W. R. Motherwell, of Canada. O. D. Hunt, Tisa; H. M. Bainer, Amarillo, Texas, and Alfred M. Atkinson, Bozeman, Montana, were elected vice presidents. The next meeting place will be selected tomorrow.

AT WAKE FOREST.

Dr. Sikes Lectures—Glee Club Tour—Football Schedule.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Wake Forest, N. C., Oct. 29.—Dr. E. W. Sikes lectured Monday night on the subject of "The Origin of Baptists in North Carolina." He briefly reviewed the history of the Baptists in North Carolina; how they came over from Virginia under the leadership of Paul Palmer, and settled in Perquimans county, and established there the first Baptist church in 1727, with an arm in Shiloh. This was the first of two great movements. The second was what is known as the Sandy Creek movement. This was led by Schubol Sterns. He founded the first church at Sandy Creek in 1755. By the concerted efforts of these two forces the number of churches by 1790 numbered 94. This was the first of four lectures to be delivered by Dr. Sikes concerning the growth of Baptists in North Carolina. The next will be given Monday night, when he will explain how these two movements became united and the results.

The Glee Club, which left last week for their annual Fall trip, have been to Durham, Winston-Salem and Asheville. They will return some time this week.

The manager of the football team is trying to arrange another game with Carolina, as Carolina has cancelled her game with A. & M. If the game is arranged it will probably be played in Raleigh. The next scheduled game is with A. & M. Saturday in Raleigh. Coach Thompson has had the team at hard practice this week, as A. & M. is about the strongest team with whom a schedule has been arranged. It is expected that practically the entire student body will accompany the team.

ADDRESS ON CHINA.

Rev. Lacy I. Moffett Speaks at First Presbyterian Church.

Rev. Lacy I. Moffett, one of the missionaries at Kiang-yin, China, who is supported by members of the First Presbyterian church, made his farewell address last night to the congregation before returning to China to resume his work after having spent a year of rest in this country. He will sail with his family from San Francisco on November 19th.

His address last night was on the missionary work among the Chinese. He said that the zeal and enthusiasm of the native Christians was remarkable. They know nothing of denominational lines as they are known in America, and the spirit of unity among the Christians is especially worthy of note, he stated. He spoke of the great satisfaction it was to the workers at Kiang-yin to feel that they had such a strong body of Christians behind them as they have in the First Presbyterian church, which supports the entire force of missionaries at that point.

Dr. Crawford, who will also be stationed at Kiang-yin, and who was here a short time ago, will sail from New York on the same date that Mr. Moffett sails from San Francisco, but will stop over in Germany for a special course in surgery before going to Kiang-yin to take up his duties. He will be supported by the ladies of the Wilmington Presbytery.

"If kindness will kill," he said, "we could hardly have survived the kindness extended to us by the Brazilian people. I will remember the Brazilian people all my life."

Lake Steamship Companies Against Seamen's Servitude Bill.

Cleveland, O., Oct. 29.—Representatives of 40 lake passenger steamship companies held an all day session here today to devise plans for organizing to oppose the LaFollette seamen's servitude bill now pending in Congress.

Some of the provisions of the bill, they say, cannot be complied with and for lake steamers which never are over half an hour's sailing from land, some of the provisions are unreasonable.

Plans for a delegation of ship owners to go to Washington to oppose the bill will be made at a meeting to be held Monday.

FREIGHT RATE MEETING.

Enthusiastic Reports by Members Who Went to Charlotte.

Enthusiastic reports of the meeting of the Mecklenburg Branch of the North Carolina Just Freight Rate Association in Charlotte Tuesday night were brought back yesterday by the Wilmington delegation which attended the meeting—Messrs. J. G. McCormick, W. E. Perdew, J. B. Rice, J. S. Brown and A. B. McNair.

They arrived from Charlotte yesterday at noon, and a meeting of the New Hanover Branch of the association was held yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock in the rooms of the Chamber of Commerce for the purpose of hearing their reports, and also to select delegates to represent this association at the State meeting in Raleigh today Those who will attend the State meeting are Messrs. L. E. Hall, chairman of the delegation; H. E. Boney, Waddell Watters, Isadore Bear and J. B. Rice. These gentlemen will leave this morning.

Mr. J. G. McCormick, chairman of the delegation that went to Charlotte, addressed the Mecklenburg association following the address of Governor Craig, who heartily endorsed the work that the association is doing. He made the report for the delegation before the meeting yesterday.

He gave an outline of the speech which he made before the Mecklenburg association in which he endorsed the position of the Governor, who said that the fight for just freight rates would never be ended until all the State is placed on an equality and just rates are secured for all. While Wilmington had been slow in being aroused she now has on her fighting clothes, and it was a pleasure for Wilmington business men to learn that they were being backed up by people in other sections of the State, he said.

He reviewed at length the history of the present agitation and gave a comprehensive outline of Wilmington's position. He spoke of the splendid work that has been done by the Wilmington papers and also by the representatives of New Hanover in the Legislature. Others who spoke yesterday were Messrs. J. B. Rice, W. E. Perdew and A. B. McNair.

Following the meeting of the Freight Rate Association a conference was held to consider the steamship line which the Morse Securities Company, of New York, propose to put on between Wilmington, Baltimore and New York.

Capt. M. L. Gilbert, representing the Morse interests, was present, having arrived in the city yesterday from New York. While nothing was given out as to the result of the conference it is understood that the prospects for securing the line are bright.

DIED.

BORDEN—At Atlantic City, N. J., Tuesday, October 28th, 1913, CHARLES EUGENE BORDEN.

Funeral at First Presbyterian church this (Thursday) afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. Interment at Oakdale. Friends and acquaintances respectfully invited to attend.

..Theatrical..

Today to the Academy of Music, for two performances, matinee and night, comes one of the most notable attractions on the road, William A. Brady's brilliant and really wonderful production of "Little Women."

The orginal New York cast and magnificent production, that had such a triumph on Broadway all last season, will be seen at the Wilmington playhouse. The matinee will commence at 3 o'clock, the doors opening an hour earlier, and the night performance at 8:30 sharp. Seats for both performances can be secured now at J. Hicks Bunting's drug store. The press of North Carolina, of the larger cities, is falling in line in lavishly praising the attraction, the Greensboro papers paying high tribute yesterday.

Marian de Forest has succeeded in making the book into a charming character comedy in four acts and five scenes. More than this, she has kept intact the spirit of the book. "Little Women," the play, is really "Little Women," the book, and all the main incidents of the story will be found in this dramatic version.

Pony Express at Grand.

Who has not heard of the pony express. Who has not read, in song and story, of the time that tried men's souls and when Indians and bandits lurked at hand to slay and rob? Today's topliner at the cozy, handsome Grand Theatre will be the best film ever manufactured dealing with this subject. It is Pathe's "Days of the Pony Express," and it is a thriller every second and the scenes are being flashed on the immense Grand screen.

There is also the Biograph's latest, "The Law and His Son," which presents vividly the contrast between two sons and is a wholesome lesson, as well as something exciting.

"Her Brave Rescuer" is yet another powerful dramatic on today and that will thrill. An exciting runaway spectacle is one of the novelty spectacular incidents of the story.

The Grand is ever comfortable, which adds to its attractiveness this kind of weather. It is also the popular resort of both old and young, who know that something good is always at the Grand.

Military Bill at Bijou.

A swell military special two-reel release film, Kalem's masterful creation, "Trooper Billy," heads today's big bill at the popular Bijou, where solid comfort is on tap and where the price of admission ever remains tiny. It is a film of life during the Indian uprisings and possesses a beautiful love story, in addition to many thrilling incidents. Hundreds of soldiers, cowboys and Indians will be seen in the production, which is on a mammoth scale. What has been proclaimed the most spectacular scene ever presented by a film will be seen in the Indians' attack on the fort. It is a thriller; one of those that always sets an audience to cheering. The film will not only be of great interest because of the story and manner of presentation, but because two popular artists will appear in the stellar roles, Miss Jane Wolfe and Mr. Carlye Blackwell.

There is yet another masterpiece on today in the way of a dramatic photoplay, being Lubin's "The Medal of Honor," in which one of the startling incidents is a conflagration, with a thrilling rescue.

Besides being a place of big shows the Bijou strongly appeals to every one on account of its thoroughly comfortable nature. It is the solid comfort spot of all, being cozy on the bleakest days, yet freely ventilated.

COTTON OFF SEVERAL POINTS

Reactionary Sentiment Gained Ground in Early Part of Day, But Prices Rallied Later, Influenced by Weather.

New York, Oct. 29.—Reactionary sentiment seemed to be gaining ground in the cotton market during today's early trading but prices rallied several points from the lowest, and closed steady at a net loss of 2 to 13 points.

Reports that interior spot markets were not following the decline in futures, private wires from New Orleans, reporting that the Gulf coast was threatened by a tropical storm disturbance now central off Western Cuba, and a firmer tone in the New Orleans market, helped the late rally, which reflected considerable covering by recent or early sellers, and some demand from trade sources.

The market opened steady, at an advance of two points on October, which seemed to be influenced by steady Liverpool cables, but other months were from 9 to 10 points lower, and after some irregularity the general list weakened under scattering liquidation, foreign selling, local and Southern pressure. There was enough demand to cause occasional slight rallies, but the forecast for better weather in the Southwest was followed by predictions of increasing receipts, heavier spot offerings, or more active hedge selling, while it also seemed that an analysis of the last ginning figures by a local authority suggesting that the crop might be in excess of 15,000,000 bales, created some tendency to question recent small estimates of the yield. At any rate, the general tendency of the market was downward until October showed a net loss of 7 points, and later months sold about 17 to 19 points net lower. Around 13.76 for December, offerings were pretty well taken and the market rallied several points from the lowest in the later trading. New Orleans wires said that exporters had been heavy buyers of January and December contracts on the early decline there this morning, and houses with New Orleans connections were buyers here on the afternoon rally.

REACTION IN STOCK MARKET

Prices Were Carried Up at the Opening Session but Turned Heavy in Afternoon—Bonds Were Firm and Active.

New York, Oct. 29.—Quotations of the principal stocks were carried up a point or more in the forepart of today's session, but the market turned heavy in the afternoon. The reaction in many cases brought prices under yesterday's close.

Conditions in the money markets here and abroad figured prominently. In London private discounts were higher, following the engagement there of gold for New York yesterday. No further engagements of gold were looked for soon, and was believed there would be no further increase in the rate by the Bank of England, at least in the present week.

In the home market call loans were renewed at 4 per cent., an increase of ½. The rate rose later to 5¼ per cent. in London. American stocks were depressed. There was some selling here for foreign account. Restriction of funds here for speculative purposes exerted an unfavorable influence.

Reports of growing seriousness in the Mexican situation and further depressing steel news helped to turn the market downward. The Iron Age spoke pessimistically of further price-concessions and curtailment of operations.

Bonds were firm and active. Total sales par value, $2,385,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call. Total sales of stocks, 221,000, including A. C. L., 100; C. and O., 2,900; Lehigh Valley, 300; L. and N., 100; N. and W., 300; S. A. Lc., 100; S. A. L., pfd., 100; Southern Railway, 400; Tennessee Copper, 600; United States Steel 52,000.

the State Department of the recent elections.

Mexican Newspaper Notes.

Mexico City, Oct. 29.—"Each hour brings news of fresh triumphs for the Huerta-Blanquet ticket in the Mexican States," says El Diario, the government organ, in an editorial today. "These votes have a double significance—sanction of the attitude of our President and disapproval, we might almost say scourging, of the wicked, unfounded and insolent meddling of a foreign power in our domestic affairs.

"The attitude of the President of the United States in upholding the electoral tickets of those who favor the rebels in the north of Mexico and opposing those of the supporters of legality, order and National dignity, has assured the continuance of Provisional President Huerta in power. Moreover, it has gathered about Huerta all those that are honorable and worthy in the country and consecrated him in the present difficult circumstances as the only possible President of the Mexican republic."

El Independeente says:

"The rebel of Vera Cruz and the hero of Ciudadela (Felix Diaz) declares himself vanquished. Under the wing of John Lind and pasted like scum to Consul William Canada, he has shown himself in moments of imaginary danger a military man full of terror and entirely devoid of honor."

El Impercial says:

"The nephew of the great Don Porfirio Diaz has shown himself as cowardly as a rabbit."

Diaz Denied Visitors.

Vera Cruz, Oct. 29.—General Felix Diaz, now a refugee on board the American battleship Louisiana, learned today that the privilege of asylum on a battleship carries with it certain restrictions not unlike prison regulations. General Diaz is not permitted communication with any one from shore without his permission and the admiral has given General Diaz to understand that such permission rarely will be given.

The enforcement of this order is rigid. "Will you please go below, sir," said the officer of the deck, saluting the general when he had begun a conversation with a man who had brought his baggage aboard.

General Diaz appeared to be annoyed for an instant but without hesitation complied.

Admiral Fletcher explained that while he was willing to place his flagship at the disposal of General Diaz as an asylum, he did not propose to expose himself to the criticism of making it a place for possible plotting. He asserted his confidence that General Diaz would not attempt to abuse hospitality by meeting friends and from a safe vantage point indulge in intriguing or conspiracy. But he was resolved to take no chances.

Disposition of Refugees.

The disposition of Diaz and his companions has not yet been determined, but it appears probable that they eventually will be set ashore from one of the battleships, probably the Louisiana herself, when she sails from Mexican waters the first week in November.

General Diaz has expressed his preference for Havana, adding, however, that he was willing to be set ashore anywhere except at a British port, since he was convinced that the British authorities would send him back to Mexico. He inquired of Mr. Lind, who visited him today, if he thought landing him at Havana would embarrass the United States. It is likely that he will be landed at Key West, from which port he could proceed to Havana if he desired

General Diaz professes to be through with politics and rebellions, and says he will ask nothing better so long as his country is in its present state than to be permitted to live in peace abroad.

Life aboard the Louisiana appears to agree with Diaz; he has regained his color and his worried expression of a few days ago has disappeared.

"It is a strange inconsistency," he said today, "that a battleship should be so safe a place."

Three warships, the German cruiser Hertha, and the United States cruiser Tacoma and gunboat Wheeling, are anchored in the inner harbor. The Tacoma entered today to take on coal. The port authorities expressed some apprehension at the near approach of another warship.

Intermittent Fighting.

Laredo, Texas, Oct. 29.—Intermittent fighting was in progress today at Monterey, according to dispatches to the Constitutionalist consul here. Renewel of heavy fighting was planned tomorrow, conditional on the arrival of about 1,000 Constitutional reinforcements.

Federal dead to date were given at 250 with about 300 Federals deserting to the enemy. Many Constitutional residents of Monterey have helped the attacking forces very materially.

Immense war supplies which are more valuable to the Constitutionalists than fresh recruits were reported captured by the invaders.

Jesus Carranza, General Gonzales and Colonel Maruglia are said to be directing the siege.

Concentrating on Monterey.

Eagle Pass, Texas, Oct. 29.—Armies on both sides in all Northeast Mexico are concentrating on Monterey in one of the greatest troop movements of Mexico's recent revolutions. Orders arrived here today from Governor Carranza for every Constitutionalist in this section to hurry to Monterey. The Constitutionalist forces now concentrating about Monterey are said to number 6,000, drawn all the way from Torreon in North Central Mexico to Matamoros, in the extreme Northeastern corners. The Federals have rushed ten field guns from Piedras Negras.

Women Fear Arrest.

Vera Cruz, Oct. 29.—Mrs. Daniel Madero, in fear that she was about to be arrested, went to the American Consulate this afternoon, and remained there several hours. She and Mrs. Evaristo Madero were brought here with their husbands, who were arrested by the Federal authorities at Monterey. The two men are now in San Juan de Ulloa prison.

The two women have been trying to procure aid for their husbands, so that their removal to the capital might be prevented.

DIVORCE REFUSED.

Wife Allowed Seventy-five Dollars a Month of Captain's Pay.

San Francisco, Oct. 29.—Judge Graham, of the Superior Court, today refused a divorce to Capt. Henry C. Merriam, United States army, from Bessie Meriam, and allowed the wife $75 a month for separate maintenance.

Merriam had alleged misconduct with Major Clarence Murphy, then on the staff of the Governor of Louisiana, at Jackson barracks. Murphy came from Paris to testify for Mrs. Merriam.

she may bite next if she is allowed her freedom," he added.

Judge Aiken announced that the jury might go to supper before beginning the deliberations. In his charge Judge Aiken said there were four verdicts possible:

Not guilty; not guilty by reason of insanity; guilty of murder in the first degree; guilty of murder in the second degree.

Judge Aiken explained that a verdict of "not guilty by reason of insanity" carried with it "an order from the court committing the prisoner for life to an insane asylum."

In connection with a verdict of "murder in the first degree," the judge said the jury must be satisfied that there was deliberate premeditation.

Judge Aiken commented upon the fact that the Eaton case is unique in that the government is the party contending that the defendant is of unsound mind. He said it was usually the defense that claimed insanity.

"Malicious intent must be proved but a motive is not necessary," added the court.

The charge to the jury followed a bitter denunciation of the testimony of the defense by District Attorney Barker.

After saying Mrs. Eaton was the only person who had opportunity to administer fatal poison doses the District Attorney exclaimed, "poison is a woman's weapon."

"Mrs. Eaton," he continued, "divorced her husband and married Admiral Eaton for his money and when that money was lost playing the stock market she reached a turning point which led the Admiral to a grave."

After tracing the testimony down to the night before the Admiral died, Mr. Barker said:

"She locked the poor Admiral up in a room alone. Her daughter Dorothy's attempts to administer medicine to the dying man were objected to by Mrs. Eaton. Finally he cried out, 'I want a doctor, I want a doctor,' and Mrs. Eaton, 'The doctor is coming in the morning' when she knew the doctor was not coming at all.

"This woman fed her husband poison all day Friday with his medicine and she fed him the poison after he fell out of bed and she kept feeding it to him up to within two to eight hours of the time he died."

CONVENTIONERS TO PANAMA

The last session of the congress tonight was featured by an address of Congressman Richmond P. Hobson. Mr. Hobson reiterated his plea for a larger navy. He declared that the opening of the Panama Canal would be greatly augmented in its influence upon American commerce upon the 5 per cent differential in favor of American ships provided in the new tariff law. Trade gained by the opening of the canal would be greater, he contended, if the United States had a more powerful fleet.

A feature of the women's auxiliary of the congress was an address by Miss Alice Davies, a representative of the department of commerce, who is trying to interest women in the movement for better roads. Miss Davies said that by a well organized system of education among the women and children of the South the movement for good roads would be greatly strengthened.

RE-OPEN INVESTIGATION.

Charleston Pratt Denies Connection With Standard Oil.

Washington, Oct. 29.—The West Virginia coal strike investigation was re-opened by the Senate Special committee to examine Charles M. Pratt, of New York, about the ownership of the coal lands being worked in the Paint Creek district.

Pratt testified that he and his brothers owned a five-eights interests in a 21,000 acre tract on Paint Creek, and that former Senator Wetmore, of Rhode Island, owned the remaining three-eighths. He denied that he was a director of the Standard Oil Company, or that the company had any interest, direct or indirect in the land. He said, however, that one of his brother was a Standard Oil director.

IN HANDS OF RECEIVER.

Defaulted Interest on Bonds Large Company Declared Bankrupt.

New York, Oct. 29.—The Sealship Oyster Company of New York and Boston, a $4,500,000 corporation, was placed in the hands of receivers today on an application of the Old Colony Trust Company, of Boston, trustee of its $2,500,000 convertible bonds. The oyster company defaulted interest on the bonds last July.

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 29.—Superintendent John B. Riley, of the State prison department, said tonight he had not decided whether he would accept the resignation of James M. Clancy as warden of Sing Sing prison. Clancy's resignation reached the superintendent this afternoon.

"Clancy is under $30,000 bond and must remain warden until released," Superintendent Riley said.

PROBATE MILLIONAIRE'S WILL.

Fifty Millions Left by St. Louis Brewer Divided.

St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 29.—The will of Adolphus Busch, filed today for probate, makes charitable bequests aggregating $170,000 to a number of St. Louis institutions and places the bulk of the estate in trust. Mrs. Lillie Busch, Charles Nagel and August A. Busch are named trustees.

In addition to the charitable bequests in the will, Mr. Busch left a private memorandum, requesting members of his family to make certain other donations, most of which are private in their nature and aggregating $40,000.

The trust is to be disposed of as follows:

One-eighth to the widow, Mrs. Lilly Busch.

Seven-eighths to be divided into seven equal shares to be apportioned as follows:

Two shares to August A. Busch, the son and for several years active head of the Busch interests.

One share to be retained by the trustees for each of the daughters, Mrs. Nellie Loeb, Chicago; Mrs. Edmee Reisinger, New York; Mrs. Anna Louise Faust, St. Louis; Mrs. Clara Von Gongstart, Berlin; and Mrs. Wilhelmina Scharer, wife of Lieut. Eduard Scharer, with the German army.

Mrs. Busch also received the estate in Germany, including a villa and 1,200 acres of forest and agricultural land. Until the estate is settled Mrs. Busch is to take not exceeding $50,000 a year for the maintenance of herself and family.

August A. Busch, who, according to the will, is to be president of the brewing association, receives two shares of the trust "absolutely." He is made responsible for the care of his invalid brother Carl, who is to be supplied with all wants up to $12,000 a year.

After stating that each daughter is to receive one-seventh of the trust, the will specifies that the trustees may pay at once to each of the daughters $100,000 out of her share; and that the remainder shall be managed by the trustees for the daughters for the rest of their lives. The trustees are given authority to pay Mrs. Reisinger, Mrs. Faust, and Mrs. Von Congtard such portions of their shares as deemed wise. At the death of a daughter the share assigned to her shall be distributed in equal shares to her husband, if he survive, and to her children, if they are dead, to the children's descendants.

NOT THE SPOILS SYSTEM.

President Wilson Tells Why Deputy Collectors Are Changed.

Washington, Oct. 29.—By direction of President Wilson, Commissioner of Internal Revenue Osborn tonight instructed collectors throughout the country that the recent action of Congress in removing deputy collectors from the protection of the civil service, did not mean a return to the spoils system and was done only for the sake of efficiency. In a letter to collectors Mr. Osborn said:

"Collectors are advised that the object of this provision of law is efficiency and only efficiency, and that any tendency to use this class of appointments merely for personal reward, or for anything that savors of the spoils system, will be regarded as a very serious disregard of public duty.

"Heheafter when vacancies in this class of officers occur or changes are contemplated and before such vacancies are filled or such changes are effected, collectors will forward to this office the names of the persons whom it is desired to appoint, together with a statement of their qualifications and records. No appointment in this class of officers shall hereafter be made by collectors without the approval of the department."

CONDEMN WAR EXPENSE.

Congregational Church Adopts Peace Resolution in Yesterday's Session.

Kansas City, Mo., Oct. 29.—Establishment of a Social Service Commission to have charge of the work of extending church aid to labor, the adoption of an annuity plan for preachers and the adoption of a "peace" resolution condemning the expenditure of large sums of money for war, today occupied the time of the National Council of Congregational Churches.

The Social Service Commission will be composed of nine members and will take over the work of the Brotherhood of the church. The church plans to make an aggressive campaign to aid in righting "industrial wrongs."

The annuity plan, which in many respects resembles the endowment scheme of insurance companies, provides the preachers shall furnish 20 per cent. of the fund through yearly payments and the church 80 per cent. The church's share will be obtained through monthly collections. An effort to procure $2,000,000 endowment also will be made.

Copies of the "peace resolution" were forwarded to President Wilson and Congress. It calls for a halt in the "swelling expenditures for the paraphernalia of war."

DESTROYERS TO CHARLESTON.

Three Torpedo Boat Destroyers to Do Reserve Duty.

Newport, R. I., Oct. 29.—On special telegraphic orders from the Navy Department, the torpedo boat destroyers Monaghan, Perry and Sterrett, left last night for Charleston, S. C., for reserve duty at that station. Under previous arrangements the destroyers were not expected to start for Charleston until next Friday.

To accompany these three as far as the Delaware breakwater the destroyers Roe and Perkins, bound for Philadelphia, also sailed tonight. All the spare men of the crews of the Charleston-bound boats will be sent to the Philadelphia yard to man new destroyers there.

CAUSE NO DELAY.

Striking Chauffeurs in New York Are Replaced.

New York, Oct. 29.—The strike of 125 chauffeurs of automobile trucks carrying United States mail caused no delay in the transportation of mail today according to the Federal authorities who said the places of the strikers had been filled by other drivers. Strikers and sympathizers did not interfere with the moving of trucks.

JOHN ADAMS.

On October 30th, 1735, John Adams, second president of the United States, was born at Braintree, Massachusetts, which place is now called Quincy. He had been vice president for two terms under Washington. People then thought a vice president could not be elected president. But Adams broke away from this idea that was rapidly crystalizing into habit.

Our thoughts are largely influenced by habit. We have so long thought of something as hard to do that we deem it impossible. The things which are impossible to a resourceful man are very few.

Saving money is a habit, and to live well and happily on less than we earn is not impossible by any means.
